SENATORS SEE ROOSEVELT TRIP AS VENGEANCE

Foes Expect 'Purge' to Realign Parties.

Accepts Challenge

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—Democratic senators who led the fight against President Roosevelt's project to pack the Supreme court regard his plan to make a trip to the west coast late in September or in October as a definite indication that reprisals against the opposition elements of the party will be attempted in the primaries next year.

This attempt to "purge" the party of senators and representatives opposed to Mr. Roosevelt's theories of government will have far reaching political effects and may hasten a realignment of parties, with the radicals on one side and the conservatives and constitutional liberals on the other, according to the anti-court packing senators.

Believe Guffey Inspired.

The foes of the ill-fated court packing scheme are convinced, as a result of the "tentatively" announced trip through the west, that the violent attack upon them by Senator Joseph F. Guffey [D., Pa.] in a radio speech which followed a White House conference was authorized. Guffey denounced Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney [D., Wyo.], and Senator Edward R. Burke [D., Neb.], as "ingrates," undertook to read them out of the Democratic party, and said they would not be returned to the senate.

The President's trip through the west, ostensibly for the purpose of inspecting the Fort Peck, Grand Coulee and Bonneville dams and visiting his daughter, Mrs. John Boettiger of Seattle, would take him through the home states of Senators Burke, O'Mahoney and Wheeler. He would have an opportunity to invite "loyal" Democrats and, in the case of Nebraska, Senator George Norris, independent radical, aboard the special train, while snubbing the court packing opponents and making it plain to the voters that he wants nothing to do with them.

Three Up in 1940.

Neither Senator Wheeler, Senator O'Mahoney nor Senator Burke is up for reelection next year, but they all come up in 1940. The President, however, would have an opportunity on the western trip to display his antipathy against three other leaders of the fight against the court packing bill who are up for reelection next year. These are Senators Frederick Van Nuys [D., Ind.], Bennett C. Clark [D., Mo.], and Pat McCarran [D., Nev.]. In addition to these, seven other Democratic senators who opposed the court bill in varying degrees of vehemence are serving terms which expire in January, 1939. They are Alva B. Adams of Colorado, Walter F. George of Georgia, Guy M. Gillette of Iowa, Augustine Lonergan of Connecticut, John H. Overton of Louisiana, Ellison D. Smith of South Carolina and Millard E. Tydings of Maryland.

Party Purge, Says Burke.

"The President's trip," said Senator Burke today, "will be the final clear indication of a party purge directed against all who are unwilling to line up with the statement of Mr. Farley that the President should have anything he wants.

"I hope the President does carry the fight to the people."

Some of President Roosevelt's closest advisers, notably Senator Guffey, Senator Robert M. La Follette [Rad., Wis.], and the remnants of the brain trust have long sought to persuade him that the leadership of congress is composed mainly of "reactionaries," and that the success of his program required their liquidation.

The southern leaders most often mentioned for the purge have been Vice President Garner, Speaker Bankhead, Senator Pat Harrison, chairman of the finance committee, and until his death, Senate Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson.

CUBS' LEAD OVER GIANTS IS CUT TO ONE-HALF GAME

Both Chicago major league baseball teams divided double-headers with Philadelphia clubs yesterday. The Cubs lost the first game to the Phillies, 10 to 3, and then won the second, 2 to 1. The Athletics established a record by scoring 12 runs in the first inning of the first game to beat the White Sox, 16 to 0. The Sox then won the second, 5 to 3. As a result:

THE CUBS—Lost a half game of their one game lead over the New York Giants, who won from Cincinnati, and now hold first place in the National league by only two percentage points.

THE WHITE SOX—Gained a half game on the second place Detroit Tigers to trail by only two games, and held third place by a margin of one game over the Boston Red Sox. They are 14½ games behind the league leading Yankees.

SEIZE GIRL, 19, AND 4 PAROLEES IN HOLDUP GANG

Arrests Expected to Solve 100 Crimes.

Hunt Gem Robbers

With four paroled convicts as a nucleus, a gang of nine, including a girl of 19 years known as the Wild Cat, was being held at the detective bureau last night, and detectives said they expected the arrests to solve more than 100 holdups in the last six months.

As soon as the last member was seized—the roundup took several days—the gang was taken to the showup. Nearly twenty identifications by robbery victims resulted.

The girl called Wild Cat is Miss Sarah Cascavale, 628 South Norton street, who carried a gun in several robberies, according to her own admissions and the stories of her companions. Sometimes she helped to search victims. Occasionally she posed as a clerk while her companions ransacked a place.

Four Paroled Convicts.

The four paroled convicts are:

FRED CANTIERI, 23 years old, 1119 South Mozart street; sentenced to Pontiac reformatory for burglary Sept. 18, 1933; paroled May 16, 1935.

SAM CASCAVALE, 23, 2734 Flournoy street [no relation to Sarah]; sentenced to Pontiac Aug. 20, 1934, for auto thefts; paroled June 11, 1936.

NICK LA CACA, 26, 714 South Claremont street; sentenced to Pontiac Jan. 24, 1929, for robbery; paroled June 19, 1933; returned to Pontiac Jan. 26, 1934, for violation of parole; paroled again March 11, 1936.

JOSEPH ZACCARI, 20, 2160 De Kalb street; sentenced to Pontiac Dec. 20, 1932, for larceny [charge reduced from robbery]; paroled July 24, 1935.

The other men held are:

ANTHONY LORDINO, 30, 1119 South Mozart street.

GEORGE TRIGONA, 20, 819 South Carpenter street.

Police records show that De Bartolo, Lordino, and Trigona served sentences in the House of Correction for larceny. Cardarone had been arrested previously on minor charges.

Several Pistols Found.

The arrests were made by Detectives Jack Hanrahan, Thomas Fallon, Leo Wolff, Timothy O'Connell, and Ted Lubeck, who found several pistols in their possession. Miss Cascavale admitted taking part in six holdups after she was confronted by other members of the gang.

When told by the detectives that she should tell the truth, as her companions had confessed, she asked, "What rat did the talking?"

AUTO CLIPS OFF TREETOPS AS IT FALLS INTO PARK

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 29.—(AP)—A heavy sedan went out of control on a hill here today and plummeted more than 100 feet into Golden Gate park, sheering off the tops of heavy trees 15 to 20 feet above the ground. Miss Alice McDonald, the driver, was seriously injured.

Police, who said the car must have been traveling between 75 and 100 miles an hour, reported it bounced 50 feet after it struck.

Miss McDonald suffered fractures of both arms and both legs.

TOMORROW LAST DAY TO ESCAPE TAX PENALTIES

Tomorrow will be the last day for payment of the first instalment on 1936 real estate taxes without penalty, County Treasurer Lindheimer announced that beginning Wednesday a penalty of 1 per cent a month will be added to delinquent tax bills.

Because a last minute rush of taxpayers is expected today and tomorrow, the county treasurer has advised that where possible payments be mailed to his office by check or money order.

Bereft Father Assails Parole of Rape Slayer

Indiana's Parole Plan

Charles Draves, father of Arlene Draves, protested fiercely yesterday the action of the Indiana parole board in releasing Virgil Kirkland, rapist-slayer of his daughter, from the Indiana state reformatory, where he had served only a little more than six years of his sentence.

In a statement directed to the board of public welfare, Draves declared that as a citizen of the state for fifty years he believed he had a right to demand justice and protection from the state.

Seeks Public Protest.

"I have received neither," he wrote. "I have endured in silence the untrue slander against my daughter and against my name. When the governor of Indiana calls a rapist and killer an intelligent boy it is apparent that his intelligence and that of the head of the welfare board is on the same level with Virgil Kirkland's. They have turned loose a killer.

"We realize fully that nothing more can be done for us personally, but we do hope that the people of Indiana will protest the present methods of parole, so other killers will not be turned loose on the people."

Parole Stuns Family.

Draves, a tall, gray haired man, is a retired electrician. He is 68 years old. He lives with a daughter, Carol, 29, and a son, Edward, 35, in a little frame cottage in West Gary. There are two other sons, Kenneth and Elmer, and one married daughter, Elsie.

The whole family was stunned, Mr. Draves declared, at the announcement that Kirkland would be freed. They had not been notified that he was being considered for parole. When they received word of it they immediately got in touch with Robert G. Estill, who as prosecuting attorney had presented evidence against Kirkland. Through Estill they sent a telegram to the welfare board pleading for an interview to present their side of the Kirkland story. They got no answer.

Since that time members of the family have directed letters to Gov. M. Clifford Townsend and the welfare board, deploring their ill advised action. They have had no replies.

"There have been reports that Kirkland was a model prisoner," Mr. Draves exclaimed. "Why, we have heard several times that he has been reprimanded for sex offenses, and wasn't fit to come out into society! As for his intelligence . . . if we had a chance we could have brought in a dozen people to prove he is not even average in intellect."

Two Russian Women Shot; Poisoned Food

MOSCOW, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Two women were shot at Leningrad today after a court martial convicted them of poisoning food at a children's home.

As the "purge" of alleged enemies of the régime spread through the Leningrad area, the court announced that the women had been "systematically poisoning food" at the children's home in the village of Sosnokaya Poliana, Krasnosesk district.

It was alleged that twelve children, ranging in ages from 8 to 11, were poisoned, but prompt medical treatment saved their lives.

10 Officials Go on Trial.

Ten more government officials went on trial for what authorities termed a "rightist plot" to wreck collective farming. The prosecutor asked death sentences for seven, including a woman manager of a tractor station.

They were accused of "trying to restore capitalism" by depriving the city of Leningrad of vegetables and discrediting collective farming. They were charged with reducing vegetable plantings, failing to rotate crops, and planting seeds so thickly that it was impossible to weed crops.

The charges also alleged ruin of the dairy industry by plowing up pastures and the ruin of peasants by making them deliver two tons of potatoes to the government for every ton of vegetables lacking under the farm program.

Top flight officials of the young communist league were shaken from their posts for corrupting the young generation in drunken debauches and allowing "enemies of the communist régime to spread through the organization."

Hits Groups "Around Bottle."

Five secretaries and eight other members of the central committee were replaced.

Comsomol [young communist organization] leaders were criticized.

Pravda claimed Comsomol leaders not only allowed "servants of Japanese and German Fascism" to oppress workers and peasants with the aim of restoring to power "land owners and capitalists," but "normal Consomol discipline was supplanted by an organization of groups around the bottle."

The Comsomol central committee, in announcing the cleanup of conditions, condemned "the idea of drunken parties and private affairs for individuals."

In burning paper he started a fire which devastated thirty acres of heather clad country. Scores of police, firemen, and nearby residents were needed to check it.

'FULL REDRESS' DEMANDED FOR SHOOTING OF ENVOY

1. Japanese bombing planes kill hundreds of Chinese civilians in raids at Shanghai, Nanking, the capital, and Nanchang, 400 miles inland. Japan rigidly enforces its blockade along the South China coast, a destroyer halting both Chinese and foreign ships near Swatow. Great Britain sends a destroyer to the area.

2. China announces conclusion of a nonaggression pact with Soviet Russia. The treaty does not require Russia to come to China's aid in the present conflict, but is regarded as a gesture of sympathy and moral support for the Chinese.

3. Brig. Gen. John C. Beaumont and 1,308 United States marines sail from San Diego for Shanghai to protect American lives and property. (Details on page 2.)

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 29.—Great Britain, in a sharp note of protest to the Japanese government today, demanded a formal apology, punishment of Japanese airmen for the shooting and wounding of Sir Hughe Montgomery Knatchbull-Hugessen, British ambassador to China, and assurance by the Japanese government that a similar outrage will not happen again.

Koki Hirota.

Might Lead to Open Break.

It was couched in such terms as to indicate that failure to fulfill any of its drastic demands is likely to lead to the breaking off of diplomatic relations between London and Tokio, diplomatic circles believed. Diplomats regarded it as the sternest rebuke Japan has received since the undeclared war opened in China on July 7.

The note did not ask compensation for the wounding of the ambassador. Britain intimated that Japan and China would be held responsible for damage to British lives and property, and it was understood this was felt sufficient to cover indemnity.

The note set no time limit for a reply.

Text of Britain's Note.

"The Japanese government will be aware of the injuries sustained by Sir Hughe Knatchbull-Hugessen, his majesty's ambassador to China, as the result of shooting by Japanese military airplanes when motoring with members of his staf from Nanking to Shanghai on Aug. 26.

"The facts were as follows:

"His majesty's ambassador was proceeding from Nanking to Shanghai on Aug. 26 accompanied by a military attaché and the financial adviser of his majesty's embassy and a Chinese chauffeur. The party occupied two sedan cars of obviously private character, each flying Union Jacks approximately 18 inches by 12 in size on the near side of the car projecting above the roof.

Tells of Attack.

"About 2:30 p. m. and about eight miles northwest of Taitsang, that is, some forty miles from Shanghai, the cars were attacked by machine gun fire from a Japanese airplane.

"The airplane which fired the machine gun dived from offside of the car at a right angle to it. This was followed by a bomb attack from a second Japanese airplane from a height of about 200 feet.

"The ambassador was hit by a nickel and steel bullet [subsequently found embedded in the car] which penetrated the side of his abdomen and grazed his spine.

"His majesty's government in the United Kingdom has received with deep distress and concern the news of this deplorable event in respect whereof it must record its emphatic protest and requests the fullest measure of redress.

Recalls International Law.

"Although noncombatants, including foreigners resident in the country concerned must accept the inevitable risk of injury resulting indirectly from the normal conduct of hostilities, it is one of the oldest and best established rules of international law that direct or deliberate attacks on noncombatants are absolutely prohibited whether inside or outside the area in which the hostilities are taking place.

Hundreds Die as Japs Bomb Chinese Cities

BULLETIN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Aug. 30 (Monday).—Japanese troops today continued to push their attack on every front in the Shanghai area, the war ministry said. It reported Chinese troops were being forced back.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Hundreds of Chinese noncombatants were killed today as Japan's great air bombers struck savagely at Shanghai, Nanking and Nanchang, far in the interior.

Three hundred civilians were killed and several hundred wounded, a Chinese communique asserted, when Japanese planes made a late afternoon raid over the North Station district, on the boundary between the international settlement and the Chinese quarter, Chapei. Two hundred houses were set ablaze by incendiary bombs.

More than 100 civilians, including many women and children, were killed and about 400 wounded in a raid by 20 Japanese bombers on Nanking, the capital, said a Chinese war office communique.

Five Hundred Houses Set Ablaze.

Bombs fell on the National School for Orphans, the National Central university and the Tzesheng hospital. Five hundred houses were set ablaze.

The war office also declared that 16 Japanese bombers killed or wounded 300 Chinese noncombatants at Nanchang, capital of Kiangsi province and nearly 400 miles inland from Shanghai. Nanchang is the seat of an important Chinese army air base.

Chinese reports said an American missionary girls' school at Nanchang was bombed, but apparently no Americans were there at the time.

The Shanghai district bombed today is on the opposite side of the international areas from Nantao, ancient native quarter of Shanghai, where Japanese bombers, apparently trying to hit the South Station, Saturday killed 200 and wounded 400 civilians.

Protest Danger to U. S. Warship.

Heavy seaplanes carried out the raid, which lasted more than an hour. Some bombs fell near the international settlement defense sector held by the Fourth regiment of United States marines, but there were no American casualties.

Shortly before the North Station was blasted United States Consul General Clarence E. Gauss had telephoned to Japanese military headquarters to demand a cessation of artillery firing near the cruiser Augusta, flagship of the United States Asiatic fleet, lying in the Whangpoo river off the international settlement waterfront.

The Japanese replied that the shells falling uncomfortably near the Augusta came from a Chinese armored train at the North Station, which evidently was trying to hit the Idzumo, Japanese flagship lying well down the river from the Augusta.

Halt Foreign Shipping.

Dispatches from Hongkong reported the Japanese navy was clamping a tight blockade along the South China coast. A Japanese destroyer off Swatow, Kwangtung province, was said to be stopping shipping of all from this rule which applies as much to attack from the air as any other form of attack. Nor can the plea of accident be accepted when facts are such as to show at the best negligence and a complete disregard for the sanctity of civilian life.

"In the present case the facts which have been recorded above make it clear this was no accident resulting from any normal hostile operation and it should have been obvious to aircraft that they were dealing with noncombatants.

"The plea, should it be advanced, that the flags carried on the cars were too small to be visible is irrelevant. There would have been no justification for the attack even had the cars carried no flags at all.

"The foreign and even the diplomatic status of the occupants is also irrelevant. The real issue is that they were noncombatants.

"The aircraft no doubt did not intend to attack his majesty's ambassador as such. They apparently did intend to attack noncombatants, and that suffices in itself to constitute an illegality.

"It is, moreover, pertinent to observe that in this particular case the ambassador was traveling in a locality where there were no Chinese troops nor any actual hostilities in progress.

"No Chinese troops were in fact encountered by the ambassador's party until about an hour's drive from the scene of the attack. His majesty's government feels it must take this opportunity to emphasize the wider significance of this event. It is an outstanding example of the results to be expected from indiscriminate attack from the air.

"Illegal and Inhuman."

"Such events are inseparable from the practice as illegal as it is inhuman of failing to draw that clear distinction between combatants and noncombatants in the conduct of hostilities which international law no less than the conscience of mankind has always enjoined.

"The fact that in present case no actual state of war has been declared or expressly recognized by either party to exist emphasizes the inexcusable nature of what occurred.

"His majesty's government must therefore request:

"FIRST—A formal apology to be conveyed by the Japanese government to his majesty's government;

"SECOND—Suitable punishment for those responsible for the attack;

"THIRD—An assurance by the Japanese authorities that necessary measures will be taken to prevent a recurrence of events of such a character."

1,308 MARINES SAIL FROM SAN DIEGO TO DUTY IN CHINA

San Diego, Cal., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Carrying the colors of the gallant Sixth regiment, decorated by France in the world war, 1,308 marines left here today on the transport Chaumont and the light cruiser Marblehead for war-torn Shanghai.

"Our mission is to protect American lives and property," said Brig. Gen. John C. Beaumont, commanding the 2d brigade, fleet marine force, who will take command of all United States marines in China upon his scheduled arrival there about Sept. 21.

Mattern hopped from Juneau, climbed to 25,000 feet, and landed at Whitehorse. On a return flight here he went up 35,000 feet.

nationalities and demanding proof of foreign registration.

As the result of increasing tension at Foochow, Fukien province, the British destroyer Delight left Hongkong for that port to protect British interests.

Japan's official announcement of a "peaceful blockade" between Shanghai and Swatow said it would apply only to Chinese shipping, but later a Japanese naval spokesman said it might be extended to include the right to stop and search foreign vessels.

See New Jap Naval Operations.

Since the Japanese completed evacuation of their nationals from Amoy, on the Fukien coast below Foochow, no Japanese remain in South China, and Chinese expressed fears this meant the Japanese navy was free to undertake further operations.

The execution by decapitation of two women and seven men, all Chinese, found guilty of treason, took place in Nantao today. It was reported that more than a hundred persons had met a similar fate in Nantao since the Shanghai conflict began.

Chinese authorities said the nine had confessed to taking Japanese bribes to poison water mains, public tea urns, or foodstuffs, or were found in possession of poisons for which they were unable to account.

Invaders Make Little Progress.

American and British naval officers, whose positions on ships off Woosung, at the confluence of the Whangpoo and Yangtze rivers, give them excellent facilities for observation, said that the army recently arrived from Japan had not penetrated far inland.

Continued air bombings, heavy artillery, and naval barrages, and repeated thrusts by forces which have gained a foothold along the southern bank of the Yangtze north of Shanghai have resulted in little progress.

These observers estimated that of the 54,000 officers and men brought from Japan by the armada which arrived in the Yangtze estuary more than a week ago, not more than half have been safely landed.

Fire Bomb Destroys Plane at a Mysterious Airport

VERSAILLES, France, Aug. 29.—(AP)—A crude fire bomb destroyed one American made plane and damaged another today at a mysterious airport near Versailles from which many planes have "vanished" while flying near the Spanish border. The fire bomb was devised from a vacuum bottle. The explosion set fire to a hangar housing the two monoplanes.

Japs Kill Hundreds

2—More than 100 Chinese, including women and children, killed and 400 wounded by Japanese bombers at Nanking, China's capital.

CITY'S CHINESE RAISE $250,000 FOR WAR CHEST

Chicago's Chinese have raised more than $250,000 to be sent to Shanghai or to Nanking to aid in the conflict with Japan.

The campaign is part of a world movement to raise $30,000,000 for the Chinese government through the sale of government bonds. San Francisco's Chinatown, largest in the nation, has taken the lead with contributions of $1,300,000.

Most of the money is expected to go directly to the Chinese government and to be used to finance the war. Benefits and dances are planned in Chicago to raise more funds.

A dance will be given Friday night at On Leong hall, 2216 Wentworth avenue, by the Young China club and the Young China auxiliary. Miss Beatrice Moy, secretary of the auxiliary, is one of the leaders.

C. I. O. DEMANDS BAN ON FAR EAST ARMS SHIPPING

Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Leaders of maritime labor representing the Committee for Industrial Organization threatened today to call sitdown strikes if necessary to prevent war implements from reaching China or Japan.

MOSCOW GIVES MORAL SUPPORT TO CHINA IN WAR

Pact Does Not Bind Reds to Lend Material Aid.

NANKING, Aug. 29.—(AP)—The Chinese government today announced conclusion of a nonaggression pact with the soviet union which, however, does not bind Russia to come to China's aid against Japanese aggression.

The announcement indicated that as far as China's present undeclared war against Japan is concerned the new treaty is only a gesture of Russian sympathy and moral support.

The treaty binds each signatory not to aid in any way a third party committing aggression against the other signatory but makes no pledge of assistance against the aggressor.

The Nanking foreign office, in a communique, referred to Japan as "China's aggressor," but said if Japan would change her national policy China would be glad to conclude a similar nonaggression pact with her.

Hope for a "Turning Point."

The communique said "great hopes are entertained" concerning the agreement with Moscow, adding that it might "prove a turning point for general improvement of the far eastern situation."

Foreign authorities found nothing in the official version of the new treaty to support any expectation of Russian material or military support for China against Japan.

[Students of international affairs, however, have noted that Japan's steady expansion on the Asiatic continent, pressing against Russia as well as against China although in less degree, has drawn China and the soviet union closer together since 1931.]

Report "Secret Pact."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—Japan has placed Germany in what diplomats call a most embarrassing position through an assertion that China and the soviet government have signed a secret pact. The assertion was displayed prominently in German newspapers as having been broadcast by the official Japanese news agency. Certain Nazi groups feel that as Japan's partner in an anti-communist pact, Germany should rush to the aid of Japan to fight the "red menace" in China and Russia.

The more conservative Nazis do not believe the Tokio rumors that a secret Chinese-soviet pact was signed, and are opposed to becoming involved on the side of Japan.

Theater Party Gem Robbery Gang Hunted in $10,000 Raid

While police were searching last night for a gang of jewelry bandits which specializes in trapping theater parties at stoplights, Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan urged motorists traveling late at night to keep their car doors locked on the inside. This is one way to foil stop light robbers, he said. The gang now sought staged a $10,000 jewelry robbery at Grand avenue and Dearborn street Saturday night.

"We have been relatively free from stop light bandits lately," said Chief Sullivan. "They have to work fast and if they cannot open the car doors from the outside they are immediately frustrated. They can't tarry, and the chances are they'll run away."

The victims of the Saturday night holdup, who had stopped for a red light, were Lee Stern, 3740 Lake Shore drive, a liquor broker; his wife, Josephine; Frank Berger, 451 Melrose street, an associate, and his wife, Ella, and Mrs. Marion Wolfsohn of the Melrose street address, a sister of Mrs. Berger.

Four Other Parties Robbed.

According to police records, four other parties have been held up by the same gang since last November. On Nov. 16 John F. Cuneo, wealthy president of the Cuneo Press, and his wife, the former Julia Shepherd, were robbed in front of their apartment at 3300 Lake Shore drive. Jewelry valued at $25,000 was taken.

Joseph T. Ryerson Sr., 1406 Astor street, the former president of the Joseph T. Ryerson and Son, iron and steel manufacturers, his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Barrett Wendell Jr. of 1260 Astor street, were held up by the band at Division and Dearborn streets on Feb. 3 as they were returning from the theater. Mrs. Ryerson surrendered jewelry valued at $7,000.

A week later Uri B. Grannis Sr. of 383 North Washington road, Lake Forest; two members of his family, and a friend were robbed of jewelry valued at $1,200 in front of 936 Lake Shore drive. They were returning from a loop theater.

The victims of the fourth robbery, who were returning from a party at the Drake hotel, were James E. Coston, 5555 Everett avenue, his wife, and several neighbors. They were held up in the front of the Everett avenue address and lost $3,000 in gems.

The police pointed out that in each robbery the bandits used handkerchiefs for masks and escaped in an automobile without license plates. The robbers select their victims at the theater, follow them in another automobile and hold them up at the first opportunity, police said.

Halted at Stop Light.

The Stern party was halted by two of the bandits when they stopped for a trafic signal while on their way to the Stern apartment. One of the robbers drove the car into an alley between State and Dearborn streets near Grand avenue.

Stern turned over a sapphire ring valued at $425; his wife surrendered a $3,250 platinum diamond bracelet, another bracelet valued at $2,750, and a $1,500 diamond ring; Mrs. Wolfsohn lost a diamond ring valued at $750, a $375 silver fox fur piece, and $50 in currency, and Mrs. Berger lost a ring valued at $1,000. The robbers overlooked $400 in currency carried by Berger and Stern.

BODY FOUND IN PRAIRIE.

CAR KILLS WOMAN, 70.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—Mrs. Augusta Henrici, 70, was killed this morning at Coloma when crushed against the side of a building by an automobile out of control.

Mother and Son, 2, Injured in Merry-Go-Round Crash

Mrs. Helen Kurtz, 30 years old, and her son, Wayne, 2 years old, had the unusual experience yesterday of being thrown from a merry-go-round horse. They were riding in the concession in a carnival at School street and Avers avenue when the prancing wooden steed became disconnected and fell sidewise. Mrs. Kurtz and her son were injured only slightly and returned to their home at 3839 Roscoe street after receiving first aid.

CAB FARE SURVEY MADE AS GUIDE IN RATE RAISE PLEA

Council Committee to Get Bowler's Study.

Ald. James B. Bowler [25th] announced last night that he has made a survey of taxicab rates in large cities throughout the country and will present it for study by the city council transportation committee, which is considering the request of Chicago cab drivers for a 5 cent increase in fares.

The present taxi rate in Chicago is 15 cents for the first one-third of a mile and 10 cents for each additional two-thirds of a mile. Drivers for the two cab companies in the city want an increase of 5 cents in the initial charge, making the rate 20 cents for the first one-third of a mile. There are 4,108 cabs in Chicago, and the companies have agreed to reduce this number to 3,000 if the rate raise is granted and the taxi contract ordinance is extended to 1945.

Committee Awaits Report.

The city council transportation committee debated the rate increase Friday and adjourned without action to await a complete report from Maj. R. F. Kelker Jr., traffic engineer for the committee. Maj. Kelker, in presenting a portion of his report, favored the 5 cent increase.

Ald. Bowler, however, demanded a showing on the necessity for an increase. He wanted to know if the companies had paid too much for their cabs, thus raising their operating overhead, whether cabs operated at a needless expense, and whether patrons pay a double rate when a cab is moving slower than 13 miles an hour.

His survey of cab rates in other cities, as announced last night, is as follows:

New York City.—A total of 13,800 cabs are operated by five large taxi systems and independent drivers. The rate is 20 cents for the first one-fourth of a mile and 5 cents for each additional quarter mile.

Boston, Mass.—There are 2,250 cabs, 1,400 operated by forty-seven companies, and 850 run by independents. The rate is 45 cents for the first mile and 30 cents for each mile thereafter, with a minimum charge of 25 cents for the first two-fifths of a mile.

San Francisco.—About a thousand taxicabs are in operation. The rate is 25 cents for the first fifth of a mile and 10 cents for each succeeding two-fifths of a mile.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Two companies operate cabs, charging 25 cents for the first two-thirds of a mile and 15 cents for each additional mile.

Washington, D. C.—Four thousand cabs operate, using the zone system, charging 20 cents for the first zone, which takes in the heart of the city and is 3 miles in diameter.

Detroit. — Seven companies run 830 cabs, the charge being 15 cents for first one-third of a mile and five cents for every one-third mile thereafter.

Baltimore. — Eleven hundred cabs are operated, the rate being 25 cents for the first 3½ mile city zone and five cents for each additional half mile.

Los Angeles. — Five hundred cabs are in operation. The rate is 20 cents for the first quarter of a mile and 10 cents for each additional half mile.

Milwaukee. — Two companies run 350 cabs, charging by zones. The rate for the first zone, covering a territory of two miles in each direction from the heart of the city, is 25 cents. The rates increase 15 cents each additional zone.

Buffalo, N. Y. — Eleven companies operate 350 cabs. The rate is 25 cents for the first mile and 5 cents for each additional quarter mile.

Indianapolis. — There are about 400 cabs, operated by one company and individual owners. The charge is 15 cents for the first mile and a half and 10 cents for each mile thereafter.

Denver. — Twelve companies operate 167 cabs. Yellow cabs charge 30 cents for the first mile and 20 cents for each mile thereafter, and the other companies operate on a zone basis.

Atlanta, Ga. — Two companies operate 180 cabs. The fare is 30 cents for the first four miles and 10 cents for each additional half mile.

St. Paul. — Four companies operate 110 cabs. They charge 25 cents for the first half mile and 5 cents for each fourth of a mile thereafter.

Seattle, Wash. — Rates are among the highest of any large city in the country. The charge is 25 cents for the first one-fourth mile and 10 cents for each additional half mile.

Mother Forgives Baby's Abductor

[TRIBUNE Photo.]
MRS. HERMAN LUCAS and DIANE.

Open Letter to Thief

In an open letter to the abductor of their baby daughter, who was returned to them unharmed last Tuesday after 24 hours, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lucas, 1281 Argyle street, yesterday announced their appreciation of the treatment given the baby, and their complete forgiveness of the penitent mother who confessed the abduction in an anonymous letter.

"We think you are a woman of purest gold," they wrote, "for giving our precious Diane such wonderful care while she was in your hands. After having read your letter, we can readily understand your condition. Being without Diane for 24 hours drove us almost mad. But at the same time, if you loved our baby, certainly you know how we would suffer."

B. F. ROGERS JR. DIES IN CABIN OF SHIP IN NAPLES

Bernard Fowler Rogers Jr., 45 years old, socially prominent Chicagoan and well known insurance executive, died unexpectedly of a heart attack yesterday in his cabin aboard the American steamship Excambion at Naples, Italy, according to cable dispatches received here last night.

B. F. Rogers Jr.

Mr. Rogers was returning home from Turkey, where he had spent three months taking color pictures for a geographic magazine. He was an expert photographer and had devoted much of his time during the last three years to travel, photography and writing.

He was born in Chicago and was educated at Phillips Andover academy and Yale. He served seven months with an Italian ambulance corps during the war. Returning home he engaged in real estate and investment businesses and went into the insurance business for himself.

In 1923 he married Miss Corina S. Higginson, daughter of the Francis Lee Higginsons of Boston. They were divorced in 1932. Mr. Rogers is survived by two children, Corina and Adele, his father, and a brother, James. Burial will be in Chicago.

MOTHER TO FACE INDIANA CHARGE OF KIDNAPING SON

Waives Extradition; Boy Says He Followed Her.

Charged with kidnaping her own son, Mrs. Myrtle Bussell, 34 years old, of Druce lake, near Grayslake, Lake county, waived extradition yesterday and will be returned to Indiana today. She was arrested Saturday night on request of Indiana authorities.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reuss, farmers of Cedar Grove, foster parents of Mrs. Bussell, charged she kidnaped Frederick Kamleiter, 14 years old, whom they have reared since his parents were divorced more than ten years ago. Mrs. Bussell, now married to Roll Bussell, an engineer, was formerly the wife of Arthur Kamleiter, a bank employé in Cincinnati, O.

Both Deny Charge.

The Reusses alleged that Mrs. Bussell took the boy away with her after she visited the farm last week. She and the boy denied this. He declared he hitch-hiked his way to Druce lake.

Struck Him, He Says.

He said that on Wednesday the Reusses struck him. He decided to leave, he said, and Thursday morning he caught a ride toward Waukegan, slept Thursday night in a corn field, and arrived at his mother's home Friday.

"I'll never go back!" he exclaimed.

Mrs. Bussell and her husband said they would do all in their power to keep the boy and would give him a good home.

FOUND DEAD IN BED.

Lawrence Murray, 72 years old, was found dead in bed, presumably of a heart attack, yesterday by his sister, Mrs. Alice Fitzgerald, a widow, with whom he lived at 6306 North Western avenue. Murray had been blind for 13 years.

HEIFETZ PLAYS— AND VAST PARK THRONG CHEERS

Master Violinist Appears at Free Concert.

BY EDWARD BARRY.

The ancient but still potent lure of music, plus the fame of one of the art's greatest living practitioners, drew to the vast audience area at the south end of Grant park yesterday one of the largest crowds of this whole crowded summer. The occasion was the fifty-ninth of the free lake front concerts, played by the Chicago Symphony orchestra under Hans Lange's direction, with the celebrated Jascha Heifetz billed as violin soloist.

All through the late afternoon hordes of people kept streaming over the viaducts and ramps that lead to the band shell. They took seats as long as there were any left—or set up headquarters on the broad lawns between the two drives.

There were family picnics, some equipped with huge bludgeons of salami two and three feet long.

Park Fills Gradually.

Hours passed and the park filled gradually. The bland summer sky began to darken, lights winked on along the drives and atop those cliffs of skyscrapers which provide an almost overwhelming backdrop for all Grant park activities. Concert time approached, and the picnickers cleaned up their debris, moved closer to the band shell. Expectation was running high now among the scores of thousands of people banked to the south, east and west of the little illuminated platform which glowed so promisingly through the twilight. The orchestra was already seated.

Big Moment of the Evening.

"Hans Lange," the announcer announced, and brought to the stage, bowing and smiling, the orchestra's widely admired associate conductor. The latter took the orchestra through a rapid performance of d'Albert's "Improvisatore" overture. Again a pause.

Then came the big moment of the evening. The announcer finished a brief eulogy, and the great violinist walked out on the platform to the accompaniment of applause which failed to be deafening only because it had the sky and the horizon, rather than roofs and a wall, to confine it and echo it back.

Quiet and serious faced, wearing that expression of fine gravity which his legion of followers have come to know so well, this violinist who in thirty-six years has raised himself to the top rank in his profession began a performance of the Tschaikowsky concerto. There was applause after the first movement, a genuine tempest of cheers at the conclusion of the last.

Highlights of Performance.

The famous Heifetz tone, rich and round, in the sweetly rueful subsidiary theme of the first movement. The subtle differentiations in coloring during the dialogue between solo instrument and orchestra in the third, with a remarkable intensification of hue as the music neared one of its minor climaxes. A fragile suggestion of an eastern land that never was in the delivery of the theme of the middle movement.

The incisiveness of Heifetz's phrasing in the more headlong strophes of the piece. His phenomenal double stopping in the cadenza of the first movement.

But the quality above all qualities which makes this violinist's performance memorable is his grasp of form and his feeling for the work as a whole. There is a conviction which is borne early upon the listener that the beginning implies the end, and that everything from first to last will fall harmoniously into both the musical and the psychological pattern of the entire work.

Triumph of Musicianship.

Each passage as it comes is inevitable—it is demanded by what has preceded it and in turn demands what is to follow. A triumph of musicianship, one that makes detailed comments on such things as tempo and dynamics quite beside the point.

The applause could not be stilled until the announcer reminded the audience of a second appearance by Mr. Heifetz in the second half of the program. His offering at that time was Sarasate fantasy on themes from "Carmen."

CARNIVAL QUEEN

The eight day Charter Jubilee Carnival of the Lakes came to an end last night before thousands of spectators at the Lagoon theater in Burnham park.

Trips to Hollywood and RKO-Radio pictures screen tests await Miss Jean Buckner, 19 years old, 1522 Juneway terrace, an ash blonde dramatic student, and Edwin Platte, 23 years old, of Champaign, Ill., sophomore tenor at the University of Chicago. To Miss Vivian La Gren, 18 year old Lakeview High school senior, went the title of Miss Chicago. Miss La Gren, who lives at 653 Aldine avenue, was awarded the Mayor Kelly trophy, emblematic of the city beauty championship.

MAN AND WOMAN ARE FOUND SHOT TO DEATH IN CAR

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Mrs. Frances Halle, 28, and Frank J. McCarthy, 51, both of Springfield, were found shot to death in an automobile near the entrance of Lincoln park today.

Assistant State's Attorney John W. Curran Jr. said it appeared to be a case of murder and suicide. He said Mrs. Halle had been shot twice in the head and neck and McCarthy once in the neck. Curren said a pistol was found in McCarthy's right hand.

Mrs. Halle, a tavern cashier, was separated, Curren said, from her husband, Bernard, a resident of East St. Louis, Ill. Curren said he had been informed McCarthy, recently employed as a refrigerator salesman, was separated from his wife, Alice, of Malden, Mass. He attributed the shooting to jealousy over attentions which he said Mrs. Halle had been paying another man.

U. S. DIGS DEEP INTO BAY STATE POLITICAL GRAFT

Probe Seen as Obstacle to Curley Comeback.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—On a quiet country road winding into this city, plastered against a New England landscape of stone walls and silver birches, is a red-lettered sign calling upon the world to: "Join the second Boston tea party and throw Curley and his gang overboard!"

James M. Curley.

The gentleman referred to is James M. Curley, veteran of two score years of practical politics, former Boston mayor and former governor of Massachusetts. The sign is an opening gun in this fall's mayoralty election in Boston against Curley, who was beaten for a seat in the senate last November by young Henry Cabot Lodge, a Republican, and is attempting to climb back into the mayor's chair where he sat for three terms. Curley is now on the outs with the Roosevelt administration.

U. S. Moves Into Boston.

The second tea party may not be staged by rival politicians but by a special force from the intelligence unit of the federal bureau of internal revenue which has descended upon Boston to inquire into the incomes of some of the leading politicians. Among the group are several of the aces who worked out the successful income tax case against Al Capone in Chicago.

Questioning hundreds of persons, delving into bank accounts and canceled checks, ledgers and cash books, the agents have uncovered an amazing history of graft and corruption in the administration of public affairs in Boston and the state. Whether the cases can be settled out of court or eventually will evolve into prosecutions remains to be seen. No names have yet been mentioned, but it is known that many tophotch politicians are involved.

For the first time in the inquiries under the income tax law, pardons and paroles as a source of revenue are being investigated. Pardons, during 1935 and 1936 when Curley was governor, were distributed with a lavish hand. The cases are all cited in two reports which Curley was compelled to make to the state senate.

86 Pardons from Curley.

Over the two years in question Curley, with the approval of the state executive council which he controled, handed out 86 pardons. Of this number 19 went to men who were serving life terms in prison for murder. Eleven men who had been put behind the bars for robbery with a gun were fully pardoned. Pardons went to persons who had committed arson, larceny, assault to kill, perjury, jury bribing and embezzling.

Perhaps the unique case mentioned in Curley's own reports was that of a man he pardoned to help him "avoid deportation." This individual, in prison on his second sentence for larceny, thus was kept in this country although at the expense of being dumped on society.

The last batch of Curley pardons went to seven persons on Jan. 6 of this year, on the eve of his leaving the governor's office. Three of them were murderers. Frank W. Potter had killed a sheriff and wounded an officer, while George and Charles Rollins had killed two chain store managers in separate holdups four nights apart. On Christmas eve Curley had granted pardons to 22, including six lifers.

Paroles Much the Same.

Granting of paroles under Curley was just as flagrant although perhaps not as spectacular. Last year, his second term as governor, there were 3,100 convicts paroled. Up to date approximately half of those let out have been returned to prison for new crimes or violation of their parole. One of the parolees shot and killed a police captain at Athol, Mass., another wounded a state trooper, and a third, shooting it out with a Boston policeman, was killed.

In their investigation the federal agents have run up against a stone wall in many cases because the clever politician employed a "bagman," a collector or third party, who "fixed" the case so that money or checks were never handed over to public officials directly.

It is known that the investigators are also looking into the estate of the late Joseph A. Tomasello, treasurer of the Democratic party for the state and one of the favored contractors during the Curley administration. When Tomasello died last fall a sum variously reported at from $50,000 to $350,000 was left in a safety deposit box. The politician who got it is said to have left this tidy bit of income out of his tax return.

Frank Tomasello, a brother and an assistant United States district attorney, admitted the existence of the safety deposit cache, but insisted that the money belonged to the estate.

Asks Court for Inquiry.

The identity of the investigators came to light recently when Hugh Frey, intelligence unit ace and brother of Elmer Frey, chief of this branch of the service, went into federal district court to compel another contractor, Mike McDonough, to explain mysterious "expenses" of $10,000 on his books in connection with the building of the Agawam horse racing track. Judge Elisha H. Brewster of the federal district court ordered the contractor to tell where the money went.

The fact that an investigation is under way is regarded as further proof here of the widening breach between Curley and President Roosevelt. Curley was the original Franklin D. Roosevelt man in Massachusetts and fought the Al Smith forces in this state prior to the Chicago convention of 1932 which nominated Roosevelt. Then Curley was elected governor of Massachusetts in 1934 with the aid of Washington.

Curley was ambitious to become ambassador to Rome as a reward for his services, but the President offered him the ambassadorship to Poland instead. This was the turning point in their political alliance. Last fall the President, advised that Curley would be a dangerous asset, was frigid toward him and refused to aid him in his candidacy for the senate. The advice proved to be correct, for Lodge beat Curley while Roosevelt carried Massachusetts.

COLLISION KILLS BOY, 14, LYING ON RUNNING BOARD

Crash Occurs While He Tinkers with Motor.

Roy Hanson, 14 years old, 1302 11th avenue, Melrose Park, was killed yesterday in an automobile collision at 12th avenue and Augusta street, Melrose Park. He was lying on the running board tinkering with the motor of an automobile driven by his brother Gordon, 18, when the car was hit by another machine, driven by Pierto Rocca, 45, of 1107 North 8th avenue, Maywood. The drivers were uninjured. Rocca was held on a manslaughter charge.

Mrs. Mary Epstein, 69, of 4950 Chicago Beach drive, died in the Frances E. Willard hospital yesterday of injuries incurred Aug. 19 when she was struck by an automobile as she stepped off a bus at Central avenue and Van Buren street.

Charge Reckless Driving.

Richard Veitch, 17, of 2608 North Racine avenue, was arrested early yesterday as the driver of the automobile which several hours earlier hit and seriously injured Blazer Romanik, 39, of 1629 38th place, at Ashland avenue and Roosevelt road. Romanik was taken to the County hospital. Veitch was found asleep in his automobile at the rear of his home, the car having been identified by its license plates.

Fines to Start Oct. 1.

Chicago motorists will be subject to fines of from $100 to $200 if they have not received approval of their automobiles at city safety testing lanes by Oct. 1, Edward J. Gorman, deputy vehicle license commissioner, announced yesterday. More than 430,000 of the city's 540,000 licensed vehicles already have been approved, he said.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 686 persons had been killed in automobile accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 530 were killed in Chicago, where 14,767 were injured.

[See editorial page for the massacre clock.]

KIDNAP-ROBBERY HOAX ADMITTED BY TRUCK DRIVER

Ralph Marcum, 29 years old, a truck driver employed in the market of James Saunders, 3759 Chicago avenue, who reported that he had been kidnaped by three men, driven to La Crosse, Wis., and robbed of $1,800 last Thursday, told North Damen avenue police yesterday that his story had been a hoax. He said he had negotiated to go into business with another party, found himself unable to raise the necessary money, and made up the robbery story as an excuse to withdraw from the deal. He will be arraigned in the Town Hall court today on a charge of disorderly conduct.

J., vying with other beauties from throughout the country for the title of Miss America 1937.

NEW LAKE SHORE DRIVE LANE WILL BE OPENED TODAY

The new east section of Lake Shore drive, between Oak street and North avenue, is to be opened for north bound trafic today for a week or ten days while new pedestrian subways at North avenue and Division street are completed. North bound trafic will enter the new lane at Oak street, and turn into the normal lane at North avenue. The old north lane will be closed except to special trafic during the rerouting period. The south bound lane will not be affected. Otto K. Jelinek, park trafic engineer, arranged the rerouting.

"Thomas Re-grew My Hair"

Says Mr. Donald McClelland

• • These photographs show three views of Mr. McClelland before he started Thomas treatment, and three views taken 5½ months later. Note that all of the bald spots have been completely filled in with new, vigorous, growing hair. Mr. McClelland's baldness was of the type known as "alopecia areata".

All of the 14 local causes of baldness (responsible for almost 90% of all baldness) respond to the Thomas method of treatment. Dandruff disappears; abnormal hair-fall stops; and hair growth is promoted on the thin and bald spots. Guess work is banished when you place your scalp problem in the hands of a Thomas expert. He first determines the exact cause of your hair loss, and then adapts the reliable, proved Thomas treatment to overcome that cause. Your scalp is soon restored to a normal healthy condition, conducive to the natural growth of hair.

More than 1600 other persons are benefiting each day from Thomas treatment. You, too, can have a good head of hair. No charge is ever made for consultation or a complete scalp examination (always in private). Call today and learn the truth about your hair and scalp.

MARTIN CAUSES NEAR RIOT AT U. A. W. MEETING

Order to Adjourn Results in Brief Fighting.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—A near riot started at the annual convention of the United Automobile Workers of America here tonight when the unity faction which is fighting the program of Homer Martin, U. A. W. president, staged a demonstration against Martin's order for adjournment.

More than 400 delegates of the 1,100 attending the convention marched up to the platform shouting condemnations and threats against Martin who had left by a rear entrance after ordering the adjournment. They were equally loud in shouting the praises of Walter Reuther, one of the three radical brothers prominent in the union.

Fighting Quickly Stopped.

Fighting started in one spot but was quickly stopped. After a ten minute demonstration the delegates were sent back to their hotels by their leaders, who told them to come back to the next session prepared to insist on carrying out their aims.

The fight resulted from an obvious political maneuver on the part of the Martin faction to increase its majority on the important international executive board.

When the delegates reconvened two hours later, the alles were filled with sergeants-at-arms from both factions to prevent another outbreak. Martin acceded to the demand of the unity group and the credentials committee reported unfavorably on the seating of the delegates in dispute. Another uproar occurred when Martin ruled the committee had been sustained on a close vote.

Decision Is Accepted.

After an hour of bitter wrangling that threatened frequently to break up the session, the leaders of the unity group asked their supporters to accept the decision. Order was restored and the convention picked Toledo for its 1939 biennial convention city.

Ten of the seventeen members already designated for the board are Martin supporters. The final tabulation of the Michigan delegation which was to name seven more members was not revealed, although it was reported unofficially that at least four were Martin men.

The Martin controled credentials committee once reported against the seating of these delegates, but the finding was referred back to the committee.

Fight Culminates Truce.

The fight culminated the ending of a truce arranged by John L. Lewis, chief of the Committee for Industrial Organization, when he attended the convention last Friday. Although a compromise slate of officers was elected yesterday at the dictation of Lewis, the internal dispute which has been going on in the union for the last several months, was by no means ended. The unity faction has continued opposition to Martin's program.

The convention approved a big increase in officials' salaries. The total pay roll of officers will be $80,000 annually, compared with a previous figure of $15,000. Martin's salary was boosted from $3,000 a year to $5,000 a year. Five vice presidents each will receive $4,000 a year, while previously three vice presidents each were paid $3,000. The secretary-treasurer's pay was increased from $3,000 to $4,000.

MISS NONA KACHERIS.

Nona Kacheris, 17 years old, 5758 Belmont avenue, yesterday was identified by her father, Peter Kacheris, a commission merchant, as the amnesia victim found earlier in the day by police as she stood dazedly at Irving Park boulevard and North Central avenue.

When she was found the girl could tell police only that she had been studying Latin at Austin High school summer school. She recited Latin quotations to prove her story. She was first identified by Marjolaine Gerlicker, a Steinmetz High school student, who saw Nona walking with Officer Henry Carr.

GREEN ASSAILS C. I. O. AS BLOW TO LABOR HOPES

Declares Lewis Rebellion Impedes Gains.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 29.—(AP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, accused John L. Lewis tonight of stunting the growth of the organized labor movement by his C. I. O. "rebellion."

Had Lewis not "divided the family of labor," Green said at a press conference, the A. F. of L.'s membership today probably would have been even greater than the 6,600,000 combined figure the federation and the C. I. O. claim.

Green disputed the C. I. O. figure of "upward of 3,000,000. The only great gain the rebel unions had made, he said, was in automobiles. Most of the other gains, he said, were made by "raiding" A. F. of L. unions.

Scoffs at Steel Claims.

He scoffed at the C. I. O.'s contention it had more than 500,000 members in steel, saying he had information that the steel workers' organizing committee had signed up comparatively few dues paying members.

Green said the strike against independent steel companies this spring was lost because of the A. F. of L.-C. I. O. war. The steel workers, he said, "stood on the sidelines" and did not join any union because of the split. He also scoffed at the United Mine Workers' 600,000 membership claim. The union's financial reports, he said, would show it had no more than 400,000 members.

"Signing a membership application is one thing; paying union dues is another," Green said. "Our figures show only dues paying, real union members."

Cites Million Gain.

Green placed federation's present membership at 3,600,000, representing an increase of about 1,000,000 since ten C. I. O. unions were suspended last September. Those ten unions at the time claimed a membership of about 1,000,000.

With the impetus of the Supreme court decision upholding the constitutionality of the Wagner labor disputes act and a united labor front, Green said, the federation probably could have more than doubled last year's membership this summer.

Disputes "Boon" Theory.

Green made these remarks in answer to the suggestion made by some of his vice presidents in their private conversations that the Lewis rebellion was a boon to organization, that competition had proved the life of trade.

"Absolutely not," Green said. "The Supreme court decision on the Wagner act gave a new impetus to and created a new spirit of organization."

GEN. DRUM, NEW 6TH CORPS CHIEF, ENDS TOUR TODAY

Assumes Area Command Late in September.

Maj. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, assigned to command the 6th corps area, is expected to arrive at the Brooklyn army base today aboard the army transport U. S. Grant. He recently completed a tour of duty as commanding general of the Hawaiian department, largest of the army combat commands.

Maj. Gen. Drum.

Gen. Drum, who will relieve Maj. Gen. Charles D. Herron of the 6th corps area command, will arrive here the latter part of September. Gen. Herron will take command of the Hawaiian division of the Hawaiian department.

Born Into Army Life.

The new 6th corps area commander, chief of staf of the first army, A. E. F., during the world war, was born into army life in 1879 at Fort Brady, Mich.

He was commissioned a second lieutenant, by act of congress, while 18 years old following the death of his father, Capt. John Drum, killed in action at the battle of San Juan, in the Spanish-American war.

The young officer saw action in the Philippines against the Moros and in the Lake Llanao campaign. In 1912 he was graduated at the head of his class from the line officers' school at Fort Leavenworth and in 1914 was named assistant chief of staf under Maj. Gen. Frederick D. Funston in the expedition to Vera Cruz, Mexico.

Serves as Inspector General.

He accompanied Gen. Pershing to France as captain and during the world war rose to the rank of brigadier general.

Gen. Drum served as inspector general of the army from January, 1930, until his appointment as major general of the line, November, 1931, when he was given command of the 5th corps area. He was made deputy chief of staf in 1933.

ROOSEVELT PUTS O. K. ON 15 BILLS AND VETOES TWO

25 Million for Flood Control Signed.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt waded today through another great mass of legislation turned out at the recent session of congress. He approved fifteen bills and vetoed two. Then he again turned his attention to consideration of the calling of a special session of congress and plans for a late September tour of the nation.

Among the bills signed by the President was one for calling for appropriations of 25 million dollars for flood control projects, mostly in the Pittsburgh district. The others dealt with such varied subjects as funds for the Metlakatla Indians of Alaska and the Klamath Indians of Oregon; the creation of new national park areas; and the development of water storage utilities in the arid regions of the United States.

Vetoes Veterans' Bills.

One of the bills vetoed would have authorized certain payments to three organizations — the American Gold Star Mothers of the World War, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Disabled American Veterans of the World War. The sum involved was small, only $294,000, but the President declared that he saw no reason for the appropriation which amounted to a government "donation to private agencies of funds to which they have no claim and to the expenditure of which the usual governmental safeguards would not apply."

The second veto canceled a $30,000 appropriation for an Indian school in Oregon. Mr. Roosevelt wrote that he had been informed that not more than twenty Indian children would be benefited.

Hopes to End Wednesday.

No action has yet been announced by the President on the sugar quota bill. Sent to the White House on Aug. 21, it will automatically die next Wednesday by means of a "pocket veto" unless the President signs it. A large group in both the senate and the house is eagerly awaiting the decision of the President on this controversial measure.

The President hopes to clear his desk of all official business connected with the congressional session by Wednesday night. He intends to devote the following days to play. His yacht, the Potomac, will take him down the Hudson to Long Island sound where he will watch a series of international boat races. Several days will be consumed by him in fishing off Block Island.

BURGLARS WAIT; FAMILY LEAVES; LOOT IS $10,000

When they left more than three hours later they took Russian sables, silver foxes, other furs, clothing, and jewelry valued at well above $10,000.

Mr. Emerman, who is head of L. E. Emerman & Co., 1761 Elston avenue, and his family left the house at 1:20 p. m. At 1:30 three young men who had been loitering in the vicinity disappeared. Presumably they broke into and ransacked the house at that time.

Mrs. M. Campbell, 2216 Pratt boulevard, said two of the loiterers were 19 years old and one 21. One was bespectacled. Another, she noticed, wore a white polo shirt and white trousers. They drove away in a small sedan.

REBELS SMASH LOYALIST DRIVE ON SARAGOSSA

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Insurgent dispatches from the Aragon front in northeast Spain tonight said the government offensive against Saragossa had been "smashed to pieces by an air counter-offensive unequaled in the Spanish civil war."

Conflicting communiques came from the government defense ministry, which claimed its loyalist troops had captured several important positions in hard fighting around the insurgent stronghold of Saragossa.

Insurgent communiques said Gen. Francisco Franco concentrated 150 planes, including 40 huge bombers.

Raid on Valencia Fails.

VALENCIA, Spain, Aug. 29.—(AP)—A surprise attack by seven insurgent bombing planes on this capital of government Spain was beaten off tonight by heavy anti-aircraft fire.

QUIZ 5 FOR HOURS IN PARK SLAYING; 1 GIRL RELEASED

Bring Principals Together for Investigation.

For many hours last evening and early this morning state's attorney's investigators questioned three women and two men in a determined effort to solve the Grant park murder mystery. The questioning will continue today with the investigators hopeful that they will obtain new information in the slaying of Herbert W. Lee, alias Burns, an Evanston meat market proprietor.

The three women questioned were Lucille Buehler, blonde party girl who was strolling in the moonlight with Lee when he was shot to death by two gunmen early on the morning of Aug. 22; Lucille Meredith, alias Mueller, who was returned from St. Louis Saturday, and Sue Braune of the Metropole hotel, 2300 South Michigan avenue. The men are Leonard Doxey and John Martin, alias Dixon, brought back from St. Louis with Miss Meredith.

Five Brought Face to Face.

It was the first time these five people had been brought together since Lee was killed. Shortly before midnight Miss Braune was released and returned to the Metropole hotel. The questioning of the other four continued for another hour, with the investigators concentrating on Miss Buehler and Doxey, alleged sweetheart of and procurer for Miss Buehler.

The warant on which Doxey was arrested in St. Louis on Friday charges murder. When the questioning ended early this morning Lieut. Thomas Kelly of the state's attorney's police said: "Doxey and Miss Buehler apparently want more time to think it over. Miss Buehler now denies she even knows him, but Doxey admits he knows her."

Link Doxey and Girl.

Previously Miss Buehler, who has been in police custody since the shooting, had admitted she knew Doxey and confirmed reports that she had seen him in a loop tavern shortly before Lee was slain. Lieut. Kelly said that witnesses last night told of seeing Doxey in the tavern early that morning, although Doxey said he had gone home several hours before that time.

Jimmy Murphy, a casual who was sleeping in Grant Park and was awakened by the shots which killed Lee, was present at the questioning. Murphy, according to Lieut. Kelly, has identified Doxey as one of the two gunmen who slew Burns. Murphy said that Martin bore some resemblance to the other man, but was not certain.

Tells Reason for Flight.

The Meredith girl, who had lived with Doxey at the Metropole hotel, has stated that Doxey fled from Chicago for fear of being implicated in the murder. The Braune girl was another associate of Doxey.

As the questioning proceeded, the men and women were all placed in different rooms. By this method the investigators hoped to obtain contradicting statements from each which might involve the others and bring new light into the case.

The questioning was done by Lieut. Kelly, Capt. Daniel Gilbert, head of the state's attorney's police, and Harry Posner, an assistant prosecutor.

The Buehler girl and the Braune girl were subjected to lie detector tests last week and the investigators said that records of their responses indicated they were not telling all they knew about the slaying.

The police theory in the case is that Doxey had been living on Miss Buehler's earnings in the vice racket and that her intention to leave the racket to marry Lee may have been the motive for his killing.

Boy's Head Wedged in Iron Fence; Firemen Free Him

Boston, Mass., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—Eager to get a good view of the ducks and swans in Franklin Park today, Charles Heron, 4 years old, stuck his head through the iron fence around the pond. When his parents tugged at him to start home with them, he couldn't leave. His head had become wedged between two iron pickets. Firemen used jacks to pry the pickets apart and Charles was freed unharmed.

ENTERS AIR RACE

JACQUELINE COCHRAN.

Col. Roscoe Turner, noted aviator, put his new speed plane, the Meteor, through its final test yesterday in preparation for the Bendix trophy race Friday from Los Angeles, Cal., to Cleveland, O. Col. Turner will take off for the west this afternoon, stopping at St. Louis for a day. Among those against whom Turner will compete will be Jacqueline Cochran of New York, noted woman flyer who in private life is Mrs. Floyd B. Odlum.

Following yesterday's test Col. Turner said he was more than satisfied with the plane's performance. He reported he did not open the throttle, but easily raced to a speed of more than 300 miles an hour. The automatic pitch propeller which did not function properly Saturday was in working order yesterday, Col. Turner said.

28 LANGUAGES

By CALEB

A MAN came to my office not long ago, waving a letter in his hand.

"Sorry to bother you," he said, "but you speak in your column so confidently of Field's service and the willingness with which it is rendered that I do not hesitate to ask for some help. . . . I am a good customer," he added.

"What can I do for you?" I asked.

"Well," he answered, "on a trip to New York several months ago I met an Italian gentleman—fine fellow. He used to do a great deal of singing, but now he is teaching. My, how he can cook spaghetti—but, of course, that hasn't anything to do with what I started to say. We struck up quite a friendship, and here I have received a letter from him which I cannot read! He must have known I cannot read Italian. Now, Marshall Field & Company can do anything! Can you get this letter translated for me at once?"

"Gladly," I answered, and I asked over the telephone for someone who could come to my office to translate a letter written in Italian. I knew from a list before me that a Mr. Baronti, Biagi, Galiot, Lopresti, Piazza, Salbucci, or Santoro, might come, or, if it should be a lady it might be Miss Borghesi, Carrera, Comise, Delvecchio, or Reggio.

Within a few minutes' time we had his letter translated, literally and freely. "That interests me," he said. "What other languages are spoken in your store?"

"We have a total of 297 persons on our interpreters' list," I told him. And as I referred to the list, I added, "With the help of these people, we can speak Bohemian, Chinese, Croatian, Czecho, Danish, Dutch, Finnish, French, German, Greek, Hindustan, Hungarian, Icelandic, Italian, Jewish, Lithuanian, Norwegian, Polish, Portuguese, Russian, Scandinavian, Serbian, Slovak, Spanish, Swedish, Ukrainian, and Welsh."

"Well, well," the gentleman said, and he stroked his very round, bald head as he remarked (quite fittingly, I thought), "Literally a 'round the world proposition, isn't it?"

And it is.

GOV. TOWNSEND AND VAN NUYS IN NEW CLASH

Indiana Democratic Party Split Widened.

French Lick, Ind., Aug. 29.—(AP)—An exchange between U. S. Senator Frederick Van Nuys [D., Ind.] and Gov. M. Clifford Townsend at the Indiana Democratic Editorial association meeting here left no doubt today in the minds of those who attended the session that the senior senator's renomination next year will be opposed by the state administration.

Senator Van Nuys.

The governor speaking at a dinner that brought the editorial meeting to a close last night said:

"The people of our state will not tolerate, in my belief, any one in public office who will not put his shoulder to the wheel and give his earnest support to the President."

Senator Van Nuys opposed President Roosevelt's Supreme court reorganization bill.

Senator Issues Statement.

Senator Van Nuys said in a statement after the dinner:

"I consider Gov. Townsend's address as an indirect and cowardly attack upon myself, my patriotism and my democracy, and I accept the challenge, from this hour on."

The senator was the only person in the room who did not stand and applaud when the governor finished his speech.

He had predicted earlier in a radio talk that the fight for legislation to enlarge the Supreme court would not be renewed at the next session of congress and that efforts in that direction would be "confined to proposed constitutional amendments."

Sees Wide Open Race.

Several weeks ago in Washington, Gov. Townsend said his administration would oppose renomination of Van Nuys for senator next year. Van Nuys countered with an announcement of his candidacy.

Yesterday, Townsend said the senatorial race would be "wide open." The state administration in other years often has made public its choice for the senate at the outing.

Van Nuys came here saying he had been a Democrat 37 years and would not be "read out of the party."

"My name is going before the convention next year," he said. "They may beat me, but not without a fight."

Townsend in his speech said:

"If the majority of the people say this or that shall be the policy of our state and national government, then it is the honorable duty of their representatives in legislative assemblies and in executive offices to work for success of that policy.

"I believe it is a fundamental principle of democracy that no representative of the people shall turn about and set his will above the wishes of the people."

The editors adopted a resolution indorsing former Gov. Paul V. McNutt, now United States high commissioner to the Philippines, for the presidential nomination in 1940.

Cruiser Sinks 20 Miles Out in Lake; One Rescued

The 29 foot motor cruiser Comet, owned by Robert Morrison, 610 Rosewood avenue, Winnetka, sank in the lake 20 miles off St. Joseph, Mich., early yesterday. Its one occupant, F. Schmidt, a Muskegon, Mich., boatyard employé, was rescued by Otto and Richard Fricke, operators of the boatyard.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Double "queens" and double "kings," as alike as the proverbial peas in a pod, were crowned under a scorching sun here today in the National Twins association "outdoor coronation ceremony."

A perspiring crowd of 5,000 persons including 3,000 twin "subjects" applauded as National President Edward M. Clink of Silver Lake, Ind., placed paper crowns on Alta and Alva Dank, 25, of Eldridge, Iowa, and Homer Klopfenstein of Portland, Ind., and his 40-year-old twin, Howard, of Grabill, Ind. Movie cameramen vied enthusiastically for the best poses and most unusual stunts.

The Clark family of near Zanesville, Ind., brought four sets of twins, six boys and two girls, to the convention to take the top position in that department.

The association voted to hold next year's reunion at Chicago. Clink said the 1939 reunion probably will be held at New York in connection with the world's fair.

U. S. Dancer Found Dead in France; Roommate Is Held

WINGFIELD BACK AS MINER AFTER 3 MILLION CRASH

Reno, Nev., Aug. 29.—(AP)—George Wingfield, at 21 a buckaroo, at 40 a millionaire, and at 60 a bankrupt, is on the comeback trail. A few days past 61, Wingfield is engaged in what he considers a big-time gold mining venture.

The Wingfield empire crashed in the lean years following 1929. The climax came Nov. 1, 1933, when his 12 banks, deep in livestock loans, closed their doors for 5 million dollars. But Wingfield has a new grubstake. His backers are not identified, but it is understood one is Bernard Baruch, New York financier who made millions out of Goldfield mines when Wingfield controlled them.

The new mining company, known as the Getchell Mines, Inc., owns some 18,500 acres of land 27 miles north of Golconda, in the same county as the Jumbo mine, which recently captioned for a reputed 10 million dollars.

MORE THAN 80% OF THE NEW HOMES IN THE AUTOMATIC HEAT FIELD ARE GAS HEATED!

Proving Overwhelming Preference for FULLY AUTOMATIC GAS HEAT!

One of the many new home developments in Chicago having automatic heat, of which more than 80% are gas heated

• A survey shows that Gas Heat was chosen for slightly more than 80% of the new homes with automatic heat built for occupancy or sale in Chicago during the past year.

This overwhelming preference for Gas Heat is due to the comfort, convenience, cleanliness and economy it gives the user. But it must be remembered also that the selection of Gas Heat in most instances was made not only at the wish of the home owner or builder, but on the recommendation of his architect or contractor, or both!

Among real estate operators who develop subdivisions by building houses for sale, the swing is to Gas Heat. One development of 20 homes went 100 per cent Gas—for heating, refrigeration, automatic water heating, and, of course, for cooking. Another development of 120 homes went completely Gas Heat . . . and so on.

One of the reasons for the swing to Gas Heat is because accurate cost records prove that its unparalleled service is actually low in cost. The average bill for heating Chicago homes with gas in 1934-35 (Mild Winter) was $155; in 1935-36 (Extremely Cold), $174; in 1936-37 (Normal Winter), $158. Many, many homes were heated for far less than the average cost. But, even where the cost is a few dollars more, Gas Heat is worth much more, because Gas is the Only Fully Automatic Heating Service.

Gas Heat takes over the entire task of keeping your home and family warm and comfortable—and does so without any attention whatever on your part. And remember, Gas Heat can be installed in almost any heating plant, both new and old. Our heating engineers are thoroughly trained to examine your heating plant and to give you a dependable recommendation.

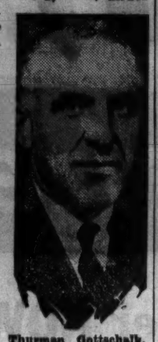
FIND ONE-MAN PAROLE SYSTEM IS COMPLICATED

Indiana in Spotlight Since Kirkland Release.

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—Indiana's parole system, under fire since Virgil Kirkland, the young rapist-slayer of Gary, was released from the Pendleton reformatory Friday, is far more complicated than that of Illinois despite the fact that the Hoosier state has what amounts to a one-man parole board in the person of Thurman A. Gottschalk, public welfare director.



Thurman Gottschalk.

Gottschalk ordered Kirkland's release after the trustees of Pendleton reformatory had decided that after serving six of the one to ten year sentence for the murder of his sweetheart, Arlene Draves, he was fit to reenter society. Simultaneously it became known that the welfare director has absolute power in paroling convicts, once they have been approved by trustees of the penal institutions.

Criticism in Illinois.

There has been much criticism of the manner by which paroles are granted in Illinois, but the system is simplicity itself compared with that of Indiana.

Here there is no centralization of authority such as is vested in the Illinois board of pardons and paroles, which considers the cases of prisoners in all the state institutions and makes its recommendations to Gov. Horner, who generally follows them.

There is twice as much complication in Indiana, where the commission on clemency makes recommendations to Gov. M. Clifford Townsend on the release or shortening of sentences of convicts who appeal for executive clemency, and the trustees of the state prison at Michigan City and the Pendleton reformatory have charge of those cases where minimum time has been served in indeterminate sentences.

Report to Governor.

The clemency commission has jurisdiction both at Michigan City and Pendleton in those cases where minimum time has not been served or where a convict given a determined sentence [say 10 years] has not completed that term. Prisoners in those classifications who ask executive clemency have their causes considered by the commission, which reports to Gov. Townsend.

This is the body which was created by the so-called "ripper" bills of state reorganization passed by the legislature in 1933 at the behest of former Gov. Paul V. McNutt, now United States commissioner to the Philippine Islands.

McNutt supported the measures on the contention that their passage would do much toward the simplification of government in the state. They were dubbed "ripper" because they completely tore apart the then system of government and it was charged placed almost absolute control in the hands of the executive.

Paroled John Dillinger.

One of the first acts of the clemency commission was to parole John Dillinger from Michigan City, whence he had been transferred from Pendleton because of his unruliness at the latter institution. When Gov. McNutt signed his parole the gangster immediately started upon a spectacular saturnalia of crime, which was ended when he was killed in front of a movie house in Chicago in 1934 by G-men.

Since Kirkland had already completed his minimum sentence—one year—his parole came to the attention of the trustees at Pendleton and they are understood to have approved it in June.

Shifts Primary Responsibility.

The only check upon their recommendation is vested in the "state [welfare] department," as the 1930 statute puts it. But the state department has come to mean Gottschalk by virtue of a delegation of power to him approved by the welfare board last Nov. 6. So the board now has no control in parole matters.

In an interview at his home today, Gottschalk, a tall, affable man who has served in the state legislature for most of the last 30 years, shifted the primary responsibility for the Kirkland case to the court which sent him to Pendleton. Former Judge Grant Crumpacker of Valparaiso imposed the sentence after a jury had found the youth guilty of manslaughter.

"Instead of getting one to ten years, I think he should have been given ten to twenty," Gottschalk said.

He did not say why, since he felt that way, he didn't permit Kirkland to remain in prison for the full ten year maximum of his sentence, but did offer the information that psychiatrists and psychologists who examined Pendleton prisoners felt that Kirkland had a chance to reëstablish himself in society now, whereas within a year or two it might be too late.

Directs State Institutions.

Asked whether he thought the burden of release on parole should rest largely upon him, the welfare administrator, who also directs the state institutions, said that while he would "prefer" to have the counsel of the welfare board that "they are pretty busy men, with businesses of their own and I imagine I would have about the same responsibility as I have now, even if they did have a voice."

Gottschalk was Democratic majority leader of the state senate and chairman of the budget commission until he was named welfare administrator by Gov. Townsend at the conclusion of the legislative session last March.

The welfare head said that he couldn't recall the exact number of paroles granted each month by him, but indorsed the estimate of his subordinate, John Klinger, who placed the figure at from 150 to 175. Gottschalk said that about as many convicts are paroled each month as enter the prisons.

OLD GOLD'S
NEW CONTEST
STARTS TODAY!

GET RICH FOR LIFE! WIN $100,000.00

WE WILL pay a quarter of a million dollars to those who enter the NEW Old Gold Contest and win prizes in accordance with the rules. First Prize will be $100,000.00; Second Prize, $50,000.00; Third Prize, $25,000.00.

You can win a fortune in this contest without laborious mental effort. This is a truly delightful contest that gives every man and woman an equal opportunity. Neither higher education nor specialized talent is at all necessary.

You win by supplying the missing conversation for the blank balloons in a group of 45 interesting cartoons that comprise this contest. To guide you in writing these missing conversations you will find suggestions below each cartoon.

This new $250,000.00 contest is Old Gold's response to the request of its thousands of friends among America's true contest lovers. Complying with the overwhelming demands of those who participated in its previous contest, Old Gold today announces an even greater contest, with bigger prizes, and an idea that is different and, if possible, even more fascinating than that of the last contest.

This new contest will be conducted exactly like the previous contest—with the same faithful attention to every detail that safeguards the interest of each and every individual contestant.

The same liberal spirit prevails. Obviously we hope to win thousands of new smokers and thousands of new friends for Old Golds. But—you do not need to make a purchase in order to enter. While the rules require that three Old Gold yellow package wrappers be sent out with each Series of statements, we will cheerfully accept your own hand-drawn facsimiles of the Old Gold yellow package wrapper.

This contest is a great friend-making enterprise. It gives you an opportunity to win a real cash fortune. It gives Double-Mellow Old Golds an opportunity to win you as another of its millions of loyal friends.

We invite you to enter this contest. Complete details, together with our cordial good wishes for your success, are included in this two-page announcement.

Sincerely,

P. LORILLARD COMPANY, Inc. (Established 1760)
Makers of DOUBLE-MELLOW OLD GOLD Cigarettes

THIS IS A SAMPLE CARTOON

(It is used only for the purpose of explaining how you can enter and win in this contest. Read explanation below.)

Now! Your Job is to Write Mary's Reply

HERE is what you do to win in this contest. Just study the conversation in the cartoon, and then YOU SUPPLY THE REPLY FOR THE EMPTY BALLOON.

Or, Mary might say:

Mary might say:

"Get Old Golds. They're always fresh. They'll please everybody."

There are so many things that Mary could reply that it seems almost needless to give any more examples. For instance, Mary might very well make any of the following three replies:

"My choice is Old Golds. They're always fresh, always Double-Mellow."

There is nothing hard about this contest. Almost anybody can think of dozens of things that Mary would reply. And it's the same with all of the Official Cartoons in this contest. Just study the picture and the conversation and supply your own, original reply for the blank balloon. That's all there is to it.

Under each of the Official Cartoons you will find suggestions to help you write the missing conversation for the empty balloon.

Here's How You Win!

THIS NEW contest starts today.

In this new contest, you may win $100,000.00 as First Prize, $50,000.00 as Second Prize and $25,000.00 as Third Prize, or any other of a thousand cash awards.

The sample cartoon printed at the left will give you the idea of this contest. It will show you what to do to win.

You'll note that the girl at the left in the cartoon is saying, "Say, Mary, I wonder what kind of cigarettes I should serve at my bridge party?" Then you'll notice that the balloon for the other girl's reply is blank.

The idea of the contest is for you to supply the reply, or remark; in other words, the missing conversation for the balloon that is blank.

Anybody can think of an appropriate reply that Mary might make. If you'll read the explanation below the Sample Cartoon you'll find several different kinds of replies.

For example, Mary might say: "Either buy several brands or get Old Golds. Old Golds please everybody." Or, "Old Golds. Smokers seldom drop ashes when they smoke Old Golds."

Use your own judgment. Perhaps you'll consider a "wise crack" best. Perhaps you would prefer a simple, factual statement. Just supply the words you would consider most appropriate for the empty balloon.

NOW! You're Ready to Start!

Now, if you understand the general idea of supplying the statement for each empty balloon—you are ready to start. On the page at the right, you will find three official cartoons. For each cartoon, write a statement of not more than twelve words for the empty balloon. Write whatever statement you decide upon for each cartoon in the space provided on the official ENTRY FORM.

No tricks! No catches! NEATNESS DOES NOT COUNT IN THIS CONTEST! Before you enter this contest, read the rules and find out exactly what you are to do. Then, when you clearly understand the rules, submit your answers in accordance with them.

Send in Your Answers Each Week

Answers are to be submitted weekly in this contest. Each week for 15 weeks you send in your missing conversations for 3 cartoons. Fill in the missing conversations on the Answer Form. DO NOT SEND IN THE CARTOONS THEMSELVES.

The 3 cartoons of each week are known as a Series. The 1st Week's Series is printed on the page at the right. Mail your answers to this First Series any time between now and midnight of this coming Saturday night.

Just remember, submit your answers WEEKLY in this contest, sending in the Answer Form each week throughout the contest. This procedure is the same as in Old Gold's previous contest.

Get Cartoons FREE . . . at Cigarette Counters or Western Union Offices

You can get these cartoons free, either from your cigarette dealer or from the leading Western Union offices. The 1st to 4th Weeks' Series are now obtainable at most cigarette stands and Western Union offices in attractive Bulletin form. But you don't need to wait until you get your copy of this Bulletin. You can enroll now by sending in your answers to the 1st Week's Series of cartoons (the cartoons printed on the opposite page). On receipt of your entry from this 2-page announcement, the remaining cartoons will be mailed to you free as issued.

With each Series you will find a convenient ENTRY FORM for filling in your answers. However, any ENTRY FORM you find in a newspaper or magazine or circular is just as acceptable as any other ENTRY FORM.

Notice that there are two ENTRY FORMS included on these two pages. Use one yourself. Perhaps someone else in the family may wish to use the other ENTRY FORM. Anybody and everybody in the family can enter this contest and any person who lives in any one of the 48 states of the U. S. A. or District of Columbia is eligible to win, provided the entrant is not connected with the P. Lorillard Company, Inc., or its advertising and promotion staffs.

Enclose 3 OLD GOLD Yellow Wrappers With Each Weekly Series of Answers

Enclose 3 yellow wrappers from packages of OLD GOLDS (or 3 facsimile copies) with each of your Weekly Series of answers. This is in accordance with the Contest Rules. Address your envelope to: Old Gold Contest, P. O. Box 9, Varick Street Station, New York, N. Y.

OUR PLEDGE TO EVERY CONTESTANT

We shall use every effort to conduct this contest in a manner to insure fairness and the fullest measure of opportunity for each and every person who competes.

INDIVIDUAL FILES

The moment you enter this contest, YOUR OWN individual and separate file will be established. In that file your weekly submissions will be carefully placed. Your file will at all times be seriously and importantly regarded by us because we realize that upon your entry in this contest you have set your heart and your hopes upon the winning of a $100,000.00 cash fortune.

COMPLETE DETAILS ABOUT WINNERS WILL BE SENT TO ALL CONTESTANTS

When the time comes for the judging of answers, your submissions will be given the utmost consideration. And with the awarding of prizes, information will be mailed to all contestants, setting forth the names and addresses of all winners.

IN THAT SPIRIT

you are invited to enter this contest by P. Lorillard Co., Inc., makers of Double-Mellow OLD GOLDS. On the basis of our pledge we urge and feel entitled to the enthusiastic response of every true contest fan and every lover of good sportsmanship.

P. Lorillard Company

Makers of DOUBLE-MELLOW OLD GOLD Cigarettes

THE RULES... Please Read Them Carefully

1. The OLD GOLD CARTOON CONTEST is open to everybody residing within the 48 states of the U. S. A. or District of Columbia, with the exception of the employees of P. Lorillard Company, Inc., and their families, and employees of its advertising and sales promotion agencies and their families.

2. A group of 45 cartoons will be released. Each cartoon will contain two balloons for conversation. One of the balloons, however, will be left blank. The contestant is to supply the missing conversation for the blank balloon using not over 12 words.

3. OLD GOLD will pay a First Prize of $100,000.00 and 999 other cash prizes (a grand total of 1,000 prizes aggregating $250,000.00) in the order of value, to the one thousand contestants who write the missing conversation for the 45 cartoons and whose statements are considered original and best in the opinion of the judges, and who in all other ways conform with these Official Rules. The prizes will be awarded such contestants in the order of the merit of their statements as designated by the judges. The judges' decision will be final.

4. The cartoons will be issued in weekly Series of three, and contestants are asked to supply the required statements and submit them EACH WEEK. The 1st Week's Series of 3 cartoons bears the release date of Saturday, September 4, 1937. Each Saturday, for fourteen additional weeks, there will be another weekly Series to answer. Contestants should supply the required statements and submit them weekly, during the week following issuance date of each Series. In submitting the answers for any current Series, a contestant is privileged to submit statements for preceding Series. Thus, a contestant entering the contest during the 2nd Week should submit both the 1st Week's Series as well as the 2nd Week's Series; and a contestant entering during the 3rd Week should submit both the 1st and the 2nd Weeks' Series as well as the 3rd Week's Series; and so on. All Series should be qualified in accordance with Rule No. 7.

5. Contestants are requested to mail their weekly answers EACH WEEK. All cartoons are FREE! The first four weeks' Series may be obtained at cigarette stands. If your cigarette dealer cannot supply you, we will mail you these cartoons free on request. ENTRY FORMS may be clipped from newspapers, magazines or circulars and will be equally acceptable. Once you have sent in your answers for the earlier cartoons, the remaining cartoons will be mailed to you FREE, as issued.

6. Neatness will not count. Do not decorate your answers. DO NOT SEND IN THE CARTOONS. Just supply your answers (the missing conversation for the blank balloons), in accordance with the rules; writing these answers in the Entry or Answer Forms provided for this purpose. In case of ties, duplicate awards will be made.

7. To qualify for a prize, the contestant is required to accompany each weekly Series of answers with three OLD GOLD yellow package wrappers or three reasonably accurate hand-drawn facsimiles. Either will be equally acceptable. It is not necessary to make a purchase in order to compete. A contestant is privileged to enter more than one complete set of answers, but each entry must be properly qualified and be individually identified as entry "A"; entry "B"; etc. Each entry will be judged as a unit. A contestant is eligible to win one prize only, namely the highest prize won by any individual entry submitted by that contestant.

8. Upon entering this contest and by submission of answers, the contestant accepts these rules as binding and agrees that the decision of P. Lorillard Company in all matters affecting the conduct of the contest, the acceptance of submissions, the making of awards and the measures invoked to insure individual effort in fairness to all contestants, shall be final and conclusive. The P. Lorillard Company will establish an individual file for each contestant, but will not be responsible for submissions or communications unduly delayed or lost in the mail either from or to the contestant. Each entry and submission becomes the property of P. Lorillard Company.

9. Each weekly Series of answers, together with 3 OLD GOLD yellow package wrappers or facsimiles, as specified in Rule No. 7, should be addressed to OLD GOLD CONTEST, P. O. Box 9, Varick Street Station, New York, N. Y.

CAN OCCIDENTAL DEMOCRACY COME BACK?

Who can deny that old representative democracy is either in retreat or on defense throughout the world? Although it may have had its sins, its eccentricities, its abuse of privileges and power, it offered the average fellow his best chance. Best of all, in its internal affairs and in its international relations, democracy was growing progressively better until it was set back on its heels.

Great Britain was satisfied with its position in the world, as it should have been, and thought only of keeping what it had. The United States was withdrawing from the imperial landlord class and pulling back its governor generals, its warships, marines, soldiers, and sailors from foreign fields.

If there be such a thing as national prescience there may have been a more or less conscious feeling in the United States that democracy's lines were too far extended for what was about to happen. Just when the free peoples of the democracies had undertaken to make their policies even more liberal in a true sense a revival of Asiaticism thundered over the plains. It coursed first over its most fertile fields, Russia. Red Russia under its peculiar form of despotism threw the peoples of the rest of Europe into a panic from which they were relieved only by their equally frantic acceptance of another species of absolutism with the code of the imperial edict substituted for the customs and laws of the land.

The unstable constitutional monarchy of Italy with its representative assembly, threatened by communism, disappeared under Mussolini. The feeble German republic, with its socialist weaknesses, undermined by the communism of Russian intrigue and by the counter attack of Fascists, fell to Hitler. Hitler is Probus of the third century A. D., who said it was the privilege of the senate to give assent to the edicts of the emperor and to do nothing more.

Occidental democracy has been weakened by the loss of great areas in which republicanism was vainly tried and dismally failed. In Europe now anything that could be called democracy is in great fear of the future and demobilized by doubt and dread.

The shrewd Japanese military government, devoted to the long time policy of putting Asia under its control and excluding the foreigner, has seized the opportunity presented by western antagonisms, divisions of opinion and conflicts of interest. It would seem quite certain that the confidence, even the temerity, with which the Japanese defy every western nation in their present activities is based upon the thought or the knowledge that the westerners are too much divided to make a stand in their own interests.

There was a time when the democratic nations could have changed Japanese policies and actions by a strong diplomatic protest. There are treaties which if observed would have prevented every military operation conducted against China in the last ten years. They are scraps of paper because so much of Europe has adopted Asiatic absolutism. The democratic peoples find themselves unable or unwilling to stop the advance of despotism based on the Asiatic model. With communism on the one hand and fascism on the other, the remaining democratic peoples merely try to keep their guard up, retiring as far as they can from the lines of conflict.

Japan apparently assumes that occidental democracy, weakened by radicals and pacifists within, and dominated by outside imperialism, is unable to keep its footing. Now, this assumption may be true in a world again frightened by Asiatic absolutism and Gothic barbarism which seem to have the upper hand. Democracy may have a long road to come back from its retreat. Seemingly, when the democracies lost their desire for their neighbor's territory they lost their will to protect their own rights.

Have the once great democracies, which seemed about to provide the model for all the people of the world, fallen into disrepute because they are impotent? They may be long in regaining their lost ground and reputation.

POLITICO-CRIMINAL ALLIES IN INDIANA.

It now appears that the rapist, Virgil Kirkland, whose insufficient sentence was further shortened by parole, is but one of nearly a thousand Indiana convicts set at liberty in recent months by the action of a one man parole board.

Members of the state welfare board, which formerly passed on paroles, said that the Kirkland case was never presented to them. Investigation discloses that last November the board, acting under authority of a special legislative act, delegated its parole powers to Thurman A. Gottschalk, administrator of the welfare department. From his rulings there is no appeal. Appropriately enough, Gottschalk, when his reasons for freeing Kirkland were sought, was found to be away at a political gathering at French Lick.

Thus one more instance of political frustration of justice is added to those already exposed in the sordid story of the Kirkland case. Once more the alliance of crime and politics in Indiana comes to light.

Indiana politics got John Dillinger his parole from the Pendleton reformatory. Indiana politics protected him while he was hiding between episodes of his later murderous career, and Indiana politics connived actively at his notorious escape from the Crown Point jail. There is good reason to believe that the same politico-criminal alliance arranged Dillinger's murder in Chicago to prevent his telling what he knew.

Indiana politics has protected the gin marriage mill at Crown Point, now fallen still further as a haven for syphilitics. Indiana, politically, is a rotten state.

These statements are made with no intention to affront the decent people who are the overwhelming majority of Indiana citizens. We believe that those people feel, perhaps more keenly than their neighbors, the disgraceful condition of affairs in their state. We trust that they will act soon to clean it up.

DON'T ROCK THE BOAT.

The President and the secretary of agriculture want a law passed early in the next session of congress giving them the power to reduce the acreage planted next spring. The assumption underlying crop control is that smaller crops bring higher prices and larger crops bring lower prices. This year's wheat crop indicates that this is not a safe rule. Our wheat harvest is 264 million bushels larger than last year and the price per bushel has been generally higher through the summer.

It has often happened that a smaller harvest than in a preceding year has been accompanied by a reduction rather than an increase in the price per bushel, and that an advance in the unit price has gone along with an increase in the harvest. In 1921 the wheat harvest was 25 million bushels smaller than the year before, but the smaller crop brought the farmer 79 cents less per bushel than did the larger one the preceding year. The crop of 1923 was nearly 90 million bushels smaller than in 1922, but the farmers obtained four cents per bushel less for their marketings. In 1924 the crop was nearly 80 million bushels larger than in 1923, but the farmers obtained 32 cents more per bushel. The 1935 harvest was 100 million bushels larger than in 1934, but the price obtained by the farmer was the same.

Cotton shows the same variation. The crop of 1922 was nearly two million bales larger than in 1921, but the price in the later year was six cents higher. The year following there was a further advance in production and a further rise in the unit price. The crop of 1930 was a million bales smaller than in 1929, but the price to the farmer was 7 cents a pound less.

Crop control such as the President proposes does not necessarily mean higher prices and bigger incomes for the farmers. Wheat, cotton, and many other agricultural commodities are produced in many places and consumed everywhere. The price is determined in the world market. Calvin B. Hoover, a former executive of the AAA who made a study of the effects of crop control upon prices, made this significant statement in a report to the American Economic association: "Had there been no AAA, prices of food would have advanced quite as much as they have since 1924." The AAA had little to do with lifting or sustaining prices.

Farmers should not lose sight of the fact that they are obtaining the highest price for their wheat in years, at a time when there has been the least amount of governmental interference with the market since 1928. The highest price in nearly ten years has come with a very large crop. For other farm products there are lower prices which are more than offset by the generally larger yield. Without government control farm income is the best in years. This would appear to be a good time to sit tight rather than to plunge ahead with fresh experiments.

THE RIGHT TO DRIVE.

The highest commendation is due the judges of the trafic and safety courts for their fearless use of the new law which permits them to deprive a person of the right to operate a motor vehicle after a series of accidents proving carelessness or for driving while intoxicated. The columns of THE TRIBUNE have included excerpts from the record in each case to indicate the name and address of the guilty party as well as the details of the offense.

There are probably in excess of a half-million Chicagoans who regularly drive automobiles. Of this number 18 per cent, or 90,000, are said to be responsible for the great majority of the accidents. In the light of these lifeless statistics, the courts have a discouraging task ahead of them, but that does not appear to detract from their energy. Weeding out of the worst offenders and placing object lessons through the press before others may, in time, slow down the hands of the massacre clock, but, in any event, if one life is saved, the efforts of the courts will be worth while.

Editorial of the Day

SAWMILL LABOR MESS.

[Portland Oregonian.]

There is no quarrel with the wages, hours, or other working conditions provided by the managements of the seven Portland sawmills closed on account of labor troubles. There is a fair market for the products of the mills, and orders are waiting to be filled. Yet pickets surround the mills, violence is promised if attempt is made to move lumber from the yards, several thousand employés are kept from work and losing needed wages, and the entire community is suffering damages which never will be recovered.

It is all on account of a mere "jurisdictional dispute," which, in plain English, means a fight between two groups of labor leaders for the domination of the workers in the industry. Employers willing to do everything within reason to secure permission to go ahead and conduct their legitimate enterprises, employés with families and obligations and no vital personal interest in the fight, anxious to be at their work, and a considerable general public dependent upon the lumber industry and needing to do business with it, stand as if their hands were tied. The national labor relations board, created by blundering politicians at Washington, stands in the offing as a threat to any one other than a so-called "labor leader" who makes a move toward solution of the situation. The state of Oregon, with its ears slapped down by the national labor relations board in the Oregon worsted mill case, is mute, its tail seemingly hanging between its legs.

Reverting to the language of the street, the only kind of talk adequate to describe the mess, it certainly is a heck of a situation, which promises to get no better fast under present public leadership.

THE FOLKWAYS CHANGE.

All my life I had heard of Niagara Falls as the Mecca of honeymooners and to satisfy my curiosity about how they look in the mass I halted there on my trip east. What perturbs me is that so many couples were accompanied by middle aged women who looked like mothers-in-law. Is this a new custom? Do you think the bridal pairs figure they'll have to end up living with mamma and start early, or is this a variation of the old shotgun theme?

HOW SOME CHICAGOANS BATTLED DEPRESSION

THE TRIBUNE here presents the story of another Chicagoan who, workless but with high courage, faced the recent depression and fought through it without applying for relief. There is no inference to be drawn that all could have done it; nevertheless the case cited is inspiring. This and succeeding cases are from the files of the Illinois state employment service.

Frank is 28. He had a definitly "white collar" job as clerk in 1932, making around $30 a week, when he was in an automobile accident that left him with only half a face. Plastic surgery gave him a new chin, but terrific scars disfigured him beyond recognition, and his firm refused to reemploy him.

Too sensitive about his appearance to apply for work to which he had become accustomed, he set out, in the middle of the depression, to look for an industrial job. At first he was successful. For a few weeks he operated a punch press at $15 a week. Then he got a little work painting smokestacks at 85 cents an hour. Then he drifted.

His wife and baby went to live on the south side with relatives. He went to live on West Madison street, where he could sleep for a nickel a night. Later he went to Green street, where he could sleep under the sidewalk for nothing.

One day, learning of a factory opening, he applied, and was taken on as general flunky. When asked for his address, he gave Green street, but added: "Put that down in pencil, please. I'll want to change it." The manager, impressed by his determination, watched his work carefully, and Frank rapidly advanced. He now operates six screw machines on the night shift, makes from $30 to $45 a week, and is reunited with his family.

WHEN BABIES TURN BLUE.

WHENEVER the skin and mucous membranes become dusky or assume a bluish tinge we may sense at once that the blood lacks oxygen. Sometimes the phenomenon is observed first in the lips, the lobes of the ears, and the nail-beds, meaning that something has happened to reduce the oxygen saturation which the blood requires. In pneumonia, where a given portion of the lung is filled with exudate [cells and fibrin from the blood] air cannot reach the thin sacs wherein lie the capillaries which pick up oxygen and distribute it to the tissues. Thus we see the manifestation in this disease, and in fact in any ailment in which there is obstruction of the bronchi or in which insufficient air reaches the circulating fluid.

In newborn infants particularly, a portion of the lungs may fail to expand. A plug of mucus may block one of the bronchial tubes, causing the air sacs to remain undilated. In such a crisis the skin of the infant will appear bluish, the respirations will be shallow and irregular, and the cry feeble. Here the use of oxygen [95 per cent] and carbon dioxide [5 per cent] is of the greatest value.

In premature babies periodic attacks of cyanosis may occur without apparent cause. Interference with the breathing center at the base of the brain is probably accountable. At any rate, immediate oxygen treatment in an incubator is indicated.

In our search for causes of infant cyanosis we must not fail to consider certain drugs which may have been given the mother. It is customary these days to use one of the barbituric acid compounds to produce a state similar to twilight sleep, and nembutal, one of these powerful hypnotics, is most grateful to the patient during the period of delivery.

But these sedatives may have a depressing effect upon the breathing apparatus of the child. The amount administered, therefore, should be well within the limits of safety. In most of these cases, however, the lack of oxygen in the blood is but a temporary affair, and the color of the youngster may improve and become quite normal after a relatively short period.

As is well known, morphine given to the mother before the birth of the baby may produce a like situation. Indeed, the chief result of this drug is exhibited in the child. Respiration is slowed, and symptoms of deficient oxygen are present.

Occasionally the trouble will arise because pressure on the child's head in its passage through the birth canal has been so great that minute hemorrhages have occurred within the brain. If the difficulty is pronounced there will be a marked bulging of the portions of the skull not yet united [fontanels], and when pressure is evident it may be relieved by tapping the spinal canal.

Now and then an infant will be born with some congenital defect which permits venous [blue] blood to mingle with the arterial [red] stream. This has been known for a long time as the "disease of heaven" [morbus cæruleus], the color of the child's skin resembling the deep blue of the sky and suggesting the descriptive term "blue baby."

Regardless of the reason for the anomaly, anything that permits the blood from the right side of the heart to reach the general circulation of the arteries will bring on the condition.

We must think, also, of the possibility of an enlarged thymus, which will interfere with breathing. This is more of a popular conception than a real diagnosis, though it does happen now and then with disastrous results. The controversy still wages over this gland, but most authors agree that, while an enlargement of this structure may be dangerous, it is not often responsible for blueness in newborn babes.

We can avoid many of these cases if we will make certain immediately after the birth of the child that the air passages are free from mucus and fluid. In addition, a few simple suggestions may be helpful. It is well to change the position of the child frequently, and gentle massage may be used. Often it is of advantage to lower the baby's head, raising the body and legs to an angle of thirty or forty degrees. If this is done routinely one may be surprised to note the amount of mucus which gravity will assist in clearing away. In some cases a warm mustard bath will serve to dilate the skin capillaries and relieve internal congestion.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS.

I. M. writes: Infantile paralysis appears to be increasing. Are there any precautions that may be employed with our children?

REPLY.

Many mild cases no doubt occur. These are not followed by paralysis and the child may be ill for not more than a few days. In fact, the whole affair may simulate a typical digestive upset. There may be a temperature accompanied by vomiting and headache. A most significant sign is that the pulse is more rapid than the temperature appears to warant. As the disease progresses—if it is true poliomyelitis—there will usually be some stiffness of the neck or back.

The early administration of immune serum is our best method of combating the affliction. Absolute bed rest is important and the victim should be isolated so that contact with other children or young adults cannot occur.

The virus of poliomyelitis reaches the nervous system through the tiny endings of the nerve of smell which lie in the mucous membrane of the nasal passages. Experimentally, a solution containing a small amount of picric acid and alum sprayed into the nose will so contract the tissues that the virus cannot reach the nerves. This was used on monkeys and, later, polio virus was introduced into the animals' nostrils. The sprayed monkeys failed to contract the disease; the unsprayed animals became infected.

Recently Max Peet and others of the University of Michigan have recommended a mixture consisting of a local anesthetic—prontocain hydrochloride—which is added to a solution of zinc sulphate. The prontocain was employed in a 1 per cent solution and the zinc sulphate in a like dilution. The substance was sprayed into the nasal passages and no discomfort was observed except a slight burning or smarting sensation. Occasionally, however, a severe headache followed the absorption of the zinc solution. This passed away in from one to three hours. The nozzle of the syringe was directed to the upper portion of the air passages approximately 1½ inches back of the nostrils. These authors claim high protection against the polio virus under this plan.

AN INDIANA EDITOR'S VIEW.

Marion, Ind., Aug. 26.—Allow me to commend you for your splendid editorial, "Indiana Indorses Rape," concerning the pending parole of Virgil Kirkland. As a new member of the Indiana reformatory board of trustees I am deeply interested in the parole problem. From my observation to date your stand in the Kirkland matter is well taken, and I shall join with other interested Indiana citizens in an appeal to the welfare board that the parole be denied.

The reformatory board's action regarding Kirkland was taken before my term began last month, but even though I may not be responsible personally I feel it my duty to correct, if possible, any mistake which has been made—if a mistake has been made.

Your editorial comment in the Kirkland case is being reprinted in our guest editorial column tomorrow. I am only sorry we do not have the facilities to reproduce your fine cartoon.

J. W. CLARKE,
Managing Editor, The Marion Leader Tribune.

BUT THEY LET HIM OUT.

Michigan City, Ind., Aug. 26.—Thanks for your splendid editorial, "Indiana Indorses Rape." Kirkland's trial, in the first place, was a legal farce, the result of which was a woeful miscarriage of justice.

Why add another disgraceful chapter to the travesty by turning him loose before his time—a pitiful ten years for a beastly murder?

The tender hearted trustees say, "Yes," on the basis of good behavior—a very good reason for keeping him right where he is. The walls of his prison are the best guaranty that he will continue to behave himself—something he did not do when he was out in the open.

He has received too much misdirected sympathy already. We shall do the public a far greater service, especially the "forgotten children," if we dwell a little longer on the other side of the picture.

What about the poor, helpless victim—pounced upon and brutally torn to pieces by four wild beasts of the jungle, of whom Kirkland was leader?

JOHN B. MILLER, M. D.

THAT'S AGAINST THE LAW.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—The latest news, I hear, is the probable parole of that young sex rapist and killer, Virgil Kirkland.

Being of sane and sound mind, I say, if I ever meet that fiend face to face it will take a special dispensation from heaven to prevent me from dealing him the just fate he deserves.

JOHN A. SARKAUSKAS.

FIXING THE BLAME.

Knox, Ind., Aug. 26.—You wrong the citizenship of Indiana when you say "Indiana Indorses Rape." For twenty years prior to 1932 not a rapist was paroled from the state prison or pardoned. Since 1932 the "more abundant life" has ruled our state institutions. The Dillingers and Kirklands are products of the New Deal. Put the blame where it belongs. It is unfair to scourge the entire state to get at the few who are guilty.

JOHN L. MOORMAN.

FROM THE OPPORTUNITY GUILD.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—If the city of Chicago could have looked in on our little group today it would have done its heart good. The Chicago Motor club donated us three cars, and we are deeply grateful to them for making it possible for some of our handicapped to spend such a delightful day in Humboldt park.

GIRL SCOUTS AT THE FESTIVAL.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—To the writer of THE TRIBUNE, Marcia Winn and others, I wish to explain that the Girl Scouts at the Chicagoland Music Festival did not "stand to one side" and then "form a square."

The Scouts with their green uniforms and orange berets formed the trefoil, which is the emblem of their organization, with the flagbearers in the center.

MOTHER OF A GIRL SCOUT.

APPLY TO THE NEXT DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM COMMITTEE.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—I represent the typical average American, innocently educated, gullible and convincible, and possessing no small amount of naïveté, I admit that for the greater part of my existence I have not been wise, but witless.

I have discovered that the way I behave is exactly the way politicians, newspapers, cinema producers, radio announcers, ministers, surgeons, journalists, historians, lawyers, professors, cigaret firms, the steel industry, and foreign correspondents want me to behave. Recently I've begun to reëducate myself and now I'm beginning to understand the shape of things about me. I am thoroughly disgusted and nauseated with the way the leading men of the world are running the affairs of mankind.

I am now prepared to offer an immediate solution for the world's ills. I am ready to strike up a bargain with all mankind. I have in my possession the following:

1. A complete cure of cancer and heart disease.
2. Transmutation of lead into gold.
3. Absolute proof on the structure of matter.
4. A 1,150 m. p. h. stratosphere airplane.
5. Manufacture of synthetic coal and oil.
6. Practical television.
7. A scientific perpetual motion machine.
8. Cheap electrical energy from the sun.
9. System of long range weather forecasting.
10. Complete destruction of rats within two days.
11. Regrow hair on any bald head.

What does man offer me in exchange for these phenomenal inventions and discoveries? The abolition of poverty? Peace between labor and capital? An equal distribution of wealth? The restoration of Christianity? A millennium? A subway for Chicago?

JAMES T. BAILEY.

FRONTS FOR COMMUNISTS.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—At the seventh annual congress of the Third Internationale, which was held in Moscow during July and August, 1935, Dimitrov recommended for America the two "fronts" of a League Against War and Fascism and a Farmer-Labor party. A front, to my mind, is a camouflage and deceit to be removed when it has served its purpose. This morning's TRIBUNE says John L. Lewis' Labor league is making plans for a radical Farmer-Labor or United Front presidential campaign in 1940, either with the Democratic party, purged of its conservative elements, as its foundation, or as a third party.

These plans of Lewis' are exactly the same as those of the communist party for the United States in 1935. These facts should be given considerable thought by the American people.

PROPERTY DISPOSITION.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—In my possession are several defaulted first gold mortgage bonds of small denominations, some paying a little interest, some not.

1. What arrangement can be made regarding them so that at my death relatives may receive them without recourse to process of law, which might entail almost their entire value?

2. Would such an arrangement have to be worked out with the company holding the bonds? What would be the procedure?

3. Would stocks issued in place of a first gold mortgage bond through the reorganization of the property be treated the same way?

L. G.

1. Section 1 of the Illinois statute on joint rights says: "No estate in joint tenancy in any lands . . . shall be held . . . under any grant, devise, or conveyance . . . other than to executors or trustees unless the premises . . . shall expressly be thereby declared to pass not in tenancy in common but in joint tenancy." If title is already in one of the parties a direct conveyance of one-half to the other is not sufficient but it is necessary to convey to a third party [who should, of course, be free of liens] and have him reconvey to the two, using a joint tenancy form.

The same statute provides, in section 2, as to personal property, that the "will or other instrument in writing" must express "an intention to create a joint tenancy . . . with the right of survivorship." The parties should not rely on the wording of a stock certificate or on the fact that they have joint access to a safety box. [Estate of Jirovec, 285 Ill. App. 499.]

On the death of a joint tenant the property passes to the survivor without necessity for probate and to the exclusion of the heirs or devisees of the one who dies first. [33 Corpus Juris 908, 915.] The one-half that thus passes by survivorship is subject to inheritance tax.

2. It would be a good idea to submit your plan to them and make sure that they acquiesce.

3. There would be the additional advantage that stocks are ordinarily issued in the name of the stockholder whereas bonds are ordinarily payable to bearer.

INSIST GERMANS ABROAD LIVE BY NAZI STANDARD

But Deny Aim to Spread Creed in Other Lands.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

STUTTGART, Germany, Aug. 29.—Nazi officials addressing the opening session of the conference of the Association of Germans Living Abroad here today demanded that Germans abroad be given the right to live their own lives "according to fatherland standards."

At the same time Rudolf Hess, deputy leader of the Nazi party, said that "with a clear conscience we can say we do not want to instill other nations with national Socialism [Nazi-ism]. Even so little do we desire to force it on other nations that we do not even wish to present it to other peoples. On the contrary, we are jealously desirous of holding national Socialism for ourselves."

Assails Espionage Charges.

Hess' words were cheered wildly by the 80,000 who gathered in the Stuttgart stadium. Among them were 10,000 members from all parts of the world.

Hess assailed foreign charges that the association is seeking to establish espionage organizations abroad.

"Does any one think we are so stupid that if we did wish to establish such organizations we would make use of our visible centers and groups abroad?" he cried.

Explaining the aims of the Nazi party's foreign organization, he said: "What we do is to stress and strengthen the unity of the homeland and its members at home and abroad. The aim is only the unity of the sons and daughters of our nation. Nazi Germans are loyal to the countries in which they are guests."

Lashes at Foreign "Lies."

He assailed "lies" spread abroad to "instill distrust of Germany."

Other speakers were Foreign Minister Baron Konstantin von Neurath and Ernst Bohle, head of the association. Bohle said Germany is unable to understand why foreign countries criticize Germans who display faith in Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler.

Von Neurath said Germans had no desire to set themselves above recognized rules concerning the rights of foreigners, but that neither would Germany allow Germans abroad to be placed in a "special position" because of their Nazi views.

MOTHER KILLS 6 CHILDREN, SELF WITH AUTO GAS

Pipes Lethal Fumes from Car Into House.

Denison, Ia., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Mrs. Elsie Nollen, 30 years old, and her six children were found dead in their home from deadly exhaust gas from the family automobile early today. A 15 page suicide note in which Mrs. Nollen told of her marital troubles and "grief" was found in the home, situated 15 miles west of Denison.

The dead woman's 36 year old husband, Albert, a tenant farmer, reported to authorities that he had found the bodies at 2 a. m.

A washing machine hose had been attached to the exhaust pipe of the motor car, and then run into a bedroom window of the farm home.

The dead children were Orvin, 11; Wilbert, 10; Pauline, 7; Earl, 6; Leona, 4, and a 2 year old daughter.

Family Drives Into Town.

Mrs. Nollen and the children drove from their home into Denison last night with her husband.

Nollen parked the automobile near the Denison postoffice. He went to meet some men friends, he said, leaving Mrs. Nollen with the children.

When he returned to the place he had parked his automobile, at about 11 p. m., it was gone.

Supposing that his wife had driven the children home, he went to the home of friends, Mr. and Mrs. John Schlie, and asked them to drive him home.

Hose Leads Into Bedroom.

They discovered a hose attached to the exhaust pipe of the Nollen car, running into a bedroom window of the farm home.

Mrs. Nollen was found lying on a bed in that room, her two year old daughter clasped in her arms. One other child was lying on the floor beside the bed, and the other four were lying on the living room floor.

Sheriff A. C. Greene said the four children in the living room appeared to have been overcome while they were attempting to crawl to their mother's side.

Mrs. Nollen was the former Elsie Jones, daughter of Henry Jones of Carroll, Ia. Nollen is the son of John Nollen of Arlon, Ia.

DROWNS WHEN BOAT UPSETS.

HE'S 100, SO HE TOSSES OFF TWO NIPS THIS TIME

Henry Mendelsohn became 100 years old yesterday amid a profusion of flowers, cakes, cigars, and friends. He held open house at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph L. Slepyan, 1511 North Jackson street, Waukegan, where he lives. He was congratulated by hundreds, including Mayor Mancel Talcott of Waukegan. And, as a toast to the beginning of his second hundred years, he broke a long routine by tossing off two drinks of whisky in the afternoon. Customarily, he takes his daily nip before breakfast.

His brother, Adolph Mendelsohn of Birmingham, Ala., 76 years old, was present, but a sister, Mrs. Hannah Aronson of Kansas City, Mo., 88 years old, could not attend. Mr. Mendelsohn was born in Warsaw, Poland, and came to Chicago at the age of 23.

MELLON TRUST ONE OF LARGEST CHARITY FUNDS

Other Similar Foundations Are Outlined.

New York, Aug. 29.—(AP)—The educational and charitable trust fund to which Andrew Mellon left his multi-million-dollar fortune is one of a dozen or so similar foundations which stand as landmarks in American philanthropy.

The greatest of these are the two huge projects of John D. Rockefeller, who died last May—the General Education Board and the Rockefeller Foundation.

The Education Board, set up in 1903 to promote education in the United States "without distinction of race, sex, or creed," was given assets of 129 million dollars.

The Rockefeller Foundation, started in 1913 with John D. Rockefeller Jr. "to promote the well being of mankind," received more than 182 million dollars.

Carnegie Institution.

Andrew Carnegie established the Carnegie Institution in Washington for the promotion of original research and higher learning in 1902 with a gift of 10 million.

The steel magnate's second great project was the Carnegie Endowment for the Advancement of Teaching, started in 1906, to which he gave $16,250,000 for pensions for teachers.

Another great trust is the Russell Sage Foundation, started by Mrs. Russell Sage, the financier's widow, in 1907 for "the improvement of social and living conditions in the United States."

First Big One in 1867.

The first of the big trusts was the Peabody Education Fund, set up by George Peabody of Massachusetts in 1867 to promote popular education in the south. It reached $3,000,000.

Another fund is the trust created by Mr. and Mrs. Simon Guggenheim in 1925 which aids 40 to 60 promising student artists, writers, and scientists.

The latest big trust set up was the $50,000,000 estate of Charles Hayden, New York banker who died in January. He left the money for the education of boys and young men.

The A. W. Mellon Educational and Charitable Trust was created in 1930 for religious, charitable and educational work.

GERMAN CHURCH VOWS TO FIGHT NAZIS' PRESSURE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—Concern over the growing tension between the Nazi government and the churches was expressed today in a manifesto issued by the provisional directorate of the Confessional [Evangelical Lutheran] church and read from all Confessional pulpits.

The directorate said the manifesto was issued because no reply has been received from the government to the application which was made urging direct negotiations on church problems.

The proclamation also made complaint against the state for certain measures which have been taken. It stressed the distress of the church and referred to the fight over the church. "This fight," it continued, "is now unavoidable. It is a dispute involving a political claim as against God's claim. It is presumptuous to set the created above the Creator, to raise the created to the throne."

With the further arrest of twelve Confessional pastors, there are now about 120 pastors and members of the Confessional movement in custody.

[Copyright: 1937: By the New York Times.]

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Aug. 29.—A postage stamp threatened to disrupt the friendly relations between Nicaragua and Honduras recently and caused rumors of a possible conflict.

Nicaragua issued a new air mail stamp showing a map of Nicaragua with the legend "Peace, Prosperity, Liberty." One section of the map showing the Nicaraguan-Honduran border bore the words "Territory in Dispute." The foreign office of Honduras protested to Nicaragua. The Nicaraguan government appointed a committee of lawyers of all political parties to confer on the question. Diplomats finally patched up the matter.

2 VETERAN RAIL CONDUCTORS GO ON LAST RUNS

Two conductors who have served one railroad line fifty years or more left Chicago yesterday on their last runs.

One was William Kennedy of Cincinnati, who has served the Big Four railroad between Chicago and Cincinnati for fifty-seven years.

The other was George Rhodes, 70 years old, of Detroit, Mich., who has worked on the Michigan Central railroad between Detroit and Chicago for a half century.

Body of Woman Flyer to Be Brought to Chicago

The body of Mrs. Genevieve Savage, speed aviator who was killed in an airplane crash near Presidio, Tex., Saturday, will be brought to the home of her sister, Mrs. Mildred Duggan, 9422 Laflin street, Wednesday. The body later will be sent to Arlington National cemetery for burial. Mrs. Savage was the wife of Maj. C. M. Savage, U. S. A., San Diego, Cal.

OBITUARY.

MRS. LAURA GRUELLE, 83 years old, 4034 Kenmore avenue, died last night in the Illinois Masonic hospital. She was injured last Thursday in a fall in her home. Surviving is a daughter, Mrs. Marie Hogan, with whom Mrs. Gruelle lived.

BANK CLERK, 19, DIES IN SHALLOW WATER AT BEACH

Walter A. Herbster, 19 years old, 2616 Wilson avenue, was found dead in shallow water at the Glencoe beach late Saturday night, after he had disappeared from a beach party. Herbster was a clerk at the Lake View Trust and Savings bank, 3201 North Ashland avenue. He is the son of Walter Herbster who is in the public relations department of the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company.

Walter A. Herbster.

Firemen tried for two hours to revive Herbster. The cause of death was drowning, said Dr. Herman Jacobson, coroner's physician. Herbster's party had remained at the beach for a swim after the life guards went off duty at 9 o'clock.

DR. CHAS. THWING DIES; EDUCATOR AND LECTURER

Cleveland, O., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Dr. Charles Francis Thwing, 83, president emeritus of Western Reserve university, died today at his home here. He had been in failing health several years.

Dr. Thwing was widely known as an author, lecturer and educator. He resigned in 1921 after serving 31 years as president of Western Reserve university in Cleveland. Before coming to Cleveland he was pastor of the North Avenue church in Cambridge, Mass., and of Plymouth church in Minneapolis. He is survived by three daughters.

Charles V. Holtsberg Rites to Be Conducted Tomorrow

Funeral services for Charles V. Holtsberg, 77 years old, of 7706 South Paulina street, will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow at the Swedish Bethlehem church, the same church in which he was married 54 years ago. Burial will be in Oak Woods cemetery. Mr. Holtsberg, an employé for 30 years in the car shops of Wilson and company, died Saturday night in his home. He had lived on the south side for 55 years. He leaves his widow, Hilda, a daughter, Miss Ella Holtsberg, and three sons, Charles E., A. W., and Harry Holtsberg.

MEDIATOR PLANS RAIL UNION TALKS ON PAY DEMANDS

Dr. William M. Leiserson, member of the national mediation board who came here from Washington, D. C., to seek a compromise in the railway wage dispute, will resume a series of morning conferences today at the Stevens hotel with representatives of the five operating railroad brotherhoods who represent 250,000 railroad employés. Afternoon conferences will be held at the Union station, with the committee representing the management of eighty-six railroads.

The carriers' committee last Wednesday broke off negotiations with the unions for new agreements, refusing the demanded 20 per cent wage increase. The unions appeared ready to strike, and thus interrupt interstate commerce, to gain the boost. Dr. Leiserson's task is to obtain concessions which will enable him to bring about a settlement. He met separately with the brotherhoods and carriers for the first time Saturday following his arrival in Chicago.

Helen Jepson Likes New Job as Film Singer

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—Helen Jepson doesn't know whether to say she is making her début in the opera "La Traviata" in the Chicago Civic Opera house or in Samuel Goldwyn's musical film, "The Goldwyn Follies." It is a moot question.

Helen Jepson.

The Chicago performance is scheduled Nov. 8. The film will be released after that. But Miss Jepson already has sung the drinking song and an aria from "La Traviata" for the Goldwyn picture in which she is now making her screen début.

She has been singing her film rôle for more than a week and told this inquirer that she "loves everything about the movies so far, except hearing my own voice, over and over, in the 'playbacks.'"

Besides "La Traviata," which is an addition to her opera répertoire, the golden blonde lyric soprano will sing in Chicago "Thais," "The Loves of Three Kings," "Martha," "Faust," and probably "La Bohème." From the Chicago performances Miss Jepson will go to her fourth season with the Metropolitan in New York.

After the Metropolitan season there may be more motion pictures. Miss Jepson hopes so.

Her first picture concern, she says, was over her voice recordings, a natural enough thought for an opera star. The recordings proved all she had hoped they would and brought enthusiastic praise from Producer Goldwyn.

George Marshall, the director, bolstered her confidence with his matter-of-fact way of working. If he saw signs of the operatic extravagance creeping into her action, she says, he would very quietly tell her to relax a bit and it was easy to tone down the histrionics.

John Barrymore's hit with Carole Lombard in "Twentieth Century" established a record for success, up to 1935, in that kind of hectic comedy. Paramount is now uniting the couple for "True Confession."

Four former football greats are playing in the same film at Paramount, but it is a wild west story and two of the four never had ridden horses until told they would have to for this picture. The two who are enduring the torment of cavalry neophytes are Nick Lukats, ex-Notre Dame half back, and John Patterson, ex-quarter back at Williams. Johnny Mack Brown of Alabama and John Wayne [Duke Morrison] of Southern California are the leading men in the film, which is titled "Born to the West."

Charles Barton, who got his film start by letting Clara Bow drive an auto onto him while he was working as a prop man in 1926, is directing the quartet.

Grand National has switched the title of its current Stuart Erwin comedy from "Face the Facts" to "Mr. Boggs Buys a Barrel."

Tommy Bond, 9 years old, today possessed the legal document which makes him an actor, for he holds a motion picture contract with Mervyn Leroy, producer, which has just received court approval here. The contract calls for a salary ranging from $100 to $1,000 per week over a period of years.

Good Morning!

And what he says is what I thinks!

Of course "Artists and Models" isn't PERFECTLY awful because nothing man made is ever perfectly anything. But if it weren't for the EFFORTS of those capable troupers, Jack Benny, Ida Lupino, Richard Arlen, Gail Patrick, Hedda Hopper, the Yacht Club Boys and several others, and brief views of some of our most famous pen artists, this film would come durn near being the acme of—what's the word, Charlie McCarthy?

Lousa!

Thank you.

See you tomorrow.

Audience of 50,000 Attends B'Nai B'rith Jubilee Celebration

Approximately 50,000 persons attended the open air B'nai B'rith Charter Jubilee celebration in Douglas park last night. The day's program included a field day during the afternoon at the Douglas park playground and a program at night in the park near the refectory.

Richard E. Gutstadt, nationally known B'nai B'rith leader, was the principal speaker. Others were Ray McCarthy, Charter Jubilee west division chairman; Ald. Jacob M. Arvey [24th]; Max Kroloff, president of the Chicago B'nai B'rith council, and Dr. Abraham Greenberg of Omaha, president of District Grand lodge, No. 6, of the organization. Aaron Rosen, 9 year old violinist, headed the musical program.

10,000 Attend Polish Day Celebration in Harms Park

Front Views and Profiles

Reader—
Dollar-dayer—
Recipe—
Cat.

Manager—"Well, here's a new book . . ."

Woman, looking at title—"O, haven't I read that?"

Woman—"I'll take it then."

* *

AFTER the reader had gone, the manager of the rental library said he had many women patrons who don't know what books they have read until he looks it up in the file. Asked why he didn't just give them the same book over again the manager sighed and said that he used to do just that.

"But sometimes—about half way through, they came across a passage that made them think maybe they had read the book before, and then they came in to complain," he added.

AUGUST heat combatment note. [Typed but not tested.] About two hours before bedtime, slip your pajamas or nighties into the refrigerator. Slip them on just before getting into bed and it's like going to sleep on an iceberg.

This formula was originated by Betty Gour, formerly of the Chicago Civic Opera ballet, who now is dancing at the exposition in Dallas. And it was tried out by a Chicago girl to whom she wrote her method of getting to sleep these hot Texas night. She says it works like a charm.

A SMALL boy in Chicago owns an Angora cat that was given to him by a Frenchwoman in Beirut when he was there with his mother. It is a white cat and has one blue eye and one amber one. Leonardo da Vinci once sent to Syria for just such a cat to give to Mona Lisa, the woman in Beirut told the little boy—a white cat with a blue eye and a glowing amber eye. The little tale clung, burrlike, in our memory. Did Leonardo da Vinci send to Syria for such a cat for Mona Lisa? Down came Merejkowski's "Life of Leonardo da Vinci" off the shelves, to see if any mention was made of the matter. None was found. Then a copy of Leonardo da Vinci's notebook was searched fruitlessly. All right, scouts and stooges, gentle readers and savage critics, did any of you ever encounter the tale?

Chas. G. Mackay of Chicago Engaged to Virginia Girl

Richmond, Va., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. August Dietz announced yesterday the engagement of their daughter, Norma Elise, to Charles G. Mackay of Chicago. Mr. Mackay is a son of Mrs. Jessie Logan Mackay of Elmira, N. Y., and the late Rev. Daniel Mackay, former pastor of First Presbyterian church in Addison, N. Y. The wedding will be celebrated at the home of the bride's parents in the fall.

Ex-Chicagoans Flock Back as Autumn Nears

BY JUDITH CASS.

WITH perhaps the loveliest weather Chicago has to offer in the early autumn weeks just ahead, it is no wonder that former Chicagoans should choose this time to return for visits with relatives and old friends.

The Robert Gregory Durhams have arrived for a visit with his parents, the Raymond E. Durhams, in Hubbard Woods, and on Sept. 10 the senior Durhams and Raymond E. Durham Jr. will give a tea to introduce to their friends young Mrs. Durham. She was Carol Borchard of New Haven, Conn., before her wedding to Mr. Durham in January, 1936.

The young Durhams have been living in New Haven, where he is a student at the Yale law school, and they will return there the middle of September. Most of the summer they have been vacationing in Colorado.

It may be that the Durham family reunion will be complete, for Mr. and Mrs. Henry Varnum Poor, the former Betty Durham, are trying to arrange to come here while her brother and his wife are in Hubbard Woods. Since their marriage last November Mr. and Mrs. Poor have been living in Montreal, where he is a vice consul.

Mrs. Robert B. Gregory will not be here to see her grandchildren at this time, for she is not returning until October from Switzerland, where she has been spending the summer at her home near Geneva.

Charles H. Morse Family Gathers in Reunion.

Another family reunion took place over the week-end when Baroness Beck von Peccoz and the junior Charles H. Morses arrived in Lake Forest. Baroness Beck has come from Germany to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Morse, with whom her children have been spending the last six months. In October she will return with them to Munich, and Mr. and Mrs. Morse probably will accompany her.

It was the junior Charles H. Morses' first real homecoming since their wedding trip abroad, for they had time only for a flying visit to Lake Forest before they returned east for the wedding of Mrs. Morse's brother, William Prescott Bonbright, to Miss Margaret Weir in Pittsburgh last Friday night. Mr. Morse was best man for his brother-in-law. For the next few weeks the young Morses will be busy getting settled in their house on Mellody road.

The senior Mrs. Morse has paid two visits to Omaha in recent weeks to see her newest grandchild, the little girl born July 29 to Mr. and Mrs. William Covington. The baby is being named for her mother, but will be called Betsy instead of Elizabeth. She has two sisters and a brother.

Mrs. Robert G. McGann Visits Young Douglases.

Mrs. Robert G. McGann has arrived in Lake Forest for her usual autumn stay. She probably will not return to Santa Barbara for a couple of months. Her son-in-law and daughter, the junior James H. Douglases, are looking forward to a visit from Capt. and Mrs. Eric Maude of Bermuda, who are coming from the east shortly after Labor day.

Later in the fall Mr. and Mrs. Douglas, who have remained in Lake Forest this summer, will go east on a motor trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Armour, their debutante daughter, Miss Betty Armour, and their sons, Stanton, Lester Jr., and Vernon, are spending a fortnight cruising along the coast of Maine in a schooner they have chartered. They will return Sept. 8 just in time for the whirl of autumn parties planned for Miss Armour and her fellow debutantes.

Mrs. John Andrews King has returned from her summer home on Bear Island, near Bar Harbor, Me. John King and "Blissie" King came home with their mother, but Mr. King is remaining in Maine another fortnight. Young Mr. King will return to his studies at Harvard in September.

Mr. and Mrs. John V. Farwell III. and their children, Joan and John, left last Friday for Virginia, where they will visit Mrs. Farwell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Skinner Willing, at their country place, Bushfield farm, at Mount Holly. On their way home the Farwells will stop at Virginia Hot Springs for a few days. They will return after Labor day.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Insull Jr. and Samuel Insull III. are vacationing at Jasper National park in Canada.

Franja Hutchins, daughter of President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago and Mrs. Hutchins, has returned from spending the summer at a camp in Steamboat Springs, Colo. Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins will return early next month from a trip to England.

Mrs. George W. Roberts [Rosemary Kemper] arrived in Winnetka last Friday to be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Kemper, until she is entirely recovered from the typhoid fever which attacked her on her wedding trip and caused Mr. and Mrs.

Christened Where Parents Wed

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Thomas Hunter Knorr Jr. was christened yesterday afternoon in the chapel of Christ church, Winnetka, the same church in which his parents were married. His mother was Miss Jeanne Street. The robe which little Hunter wore for the ceremony was the one in which his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Harry L. Street, was christened Jeanne Wakefield. The baby's greatuncle, the Rev. Charles L. Street, headmaster of St. Alban's school, Sycamore, Ill., officiated at the baptism.

The New Hats Give Promise of Fun for All

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Hats that will leave every one speechless, new hats that will knock the spectators for a couple of loops, hats that will doubtless cause easily shocked gentlemen to resort to pet cuss words and other forms of pungent criticism are about to start the fall fun.

If you thought last year's creations were high, you're due for a change in ideas, for this winter's toplines will make a fever temperature look like a deep sea reading. Literally, inches have been added to inches. The hats climb dizzily upward, BUT on the head they manage to seem under control.

The starkly simple high hats—those with the fez or turban for inspiration—are skyscrapers without any trimming unless such things as appliqued ribbon stars and crisscross bands mean trim. It's the line that counts and we're here to tell you some of them are all lines.

Whether you fancy veils will make or mar many of the new arrivals for you. Unless the unpredictable feminine shoppers stage a good revolt, yards of veiling will be used. We're waiting for wisecracks about the veils getting in the ice cream sodas and salad dressing.

Dashing black velvet off-the-face hats are almost too good to be true. They're made by wizards at the game of cutting, molding, and twisting to provide a pleasing frame for the face. And a glittering pin is added for the right note of shine. These hats really flatter. The big side turnups are not the scary things they sound . . . they are positively swanky, terrifically mysterious and sex-appealish after the too many innocuous skullcaps, pill boxes, and such. Wings and plumes do their bit to keep them that way . . . all we need are good long hatpins to skewer them in position . . . to what?

Velvet felt, braid, definitly alluring trifles of sequined veil and a skittery bunch of bows make the most alluring cocktail hats. These are arriving by the dozens, the most provocatively feminine models yet unpacked.

Look Your Unpainted Best, Nebraska Teachers Urged

Fremont, Neb., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Shun paint, lipstick, and red nail polish in the classroom, but be as attractive as possible. This was the advice given to rural teachers today by Dr. G. W. Rosenlof, professor of secondary education at the University of Nebraska. "You should be personally as attractive as possible," he told the teachers, "but be yourself. Remember—a painted doll is nothing but a painted doll."

"Find This Girl"

BY ROY VICKERS [Copyright, 1937, By Roy Vickers.]

SYNOPSIS.

Jessie Merrand, a nurse, is acquitted of the charge of administering a fatal dose of medinal to an elderly patient. Gwyneth Bentley and her lover, Roy Gleason, attended the trial. Later Gwyneth meets Bessie, who has changed her name to Mathews, and, waiving references, gives her a job carius for Gwyneth's invalid husband. She plans to kill her husband and plant the guilt on Bessie. Medinal tablets for Gwyneth's sleeplessness are placed in Bessie's charge. Gwyneth hides a valuable jeweled dagger, then puts the ground tablets in her husband's food. She then gives Bessie the day off, and sends away Bessie's luggage to make it appear that Bessie has fled. In London Bessie meets her friend, Jim Watkin, who has heard of the crime over the ticker at his club. He hides Bessie in his apartment while he tries to gain proof of her innocence. To his friend Inspector Mason Jim introduces Bessie as his sister. Jim tricks Gwyneth into admitting that Roy Gleason is her lover, and gets Roy to admit that he and Gwyneth attended Bessie's trial, so knew her identity. Bessie had had a duplicate key, supposedly for her jewel case, made for Gwyneth. It was really a key to the safe containing the dagger. Jim calls on the locksmith.

INSTALMENT SIX.

A CRIMINAL CONNECTION.

"What about stepping 'round to the Yard and telling 'em it's got nothing to do with you," said Watkin. "Maybe they'll believe you — and maybe they won't."

"You're not a Yard man!" exclaimed the locksmith.

"Quite right! All the same, I can guarantee that the Yard will be here within twenty minutes of your turning me down."

Denting thought it over and then:

"What d'you want?" he grunted.

"I want just one thing of you. Your memory for faces. Help me — and I'll pretty well promise that you'll come out on the right side of the fence. . . . Did you ever see that girl before that afternoon?"

"No."

"How did she get in touch with you?"

"I don't know."

"Have you ever seen that woman before?"

Denting took up the photograph, held it to the light and looked long at it—from which Watkin knew that he was in some doubt.

"No. I can't say as I have."

Watkin had the other print in his hand, a replica of the first. It showed Mrs. Bentley in evening dress, her hair waved in the fashion of the moment.

After a minute's reflection Watkin took out a penknife. He cut away the upper part of the photograph, making a line on the forehead, trimming off as much of the hair as possible. On the underside he cut it off at the throat.

The photograph he now handed to Denting was of a human face and practically nothing else.

"What did you tell James Watkin?" she demanded.

Instantly there came a flash of recognition.

"You've seen her before?" pressed Watkin.

"No. That's a woman's face — and I've never seen her. But I've seen a man very like her. Fellow called Ryecroft. Used to do a bit now and again in the city. Larceny and the like. Never anything big. Last I heard of him he got five years at the Old Bailey."

"Miss Gwynneth Amelia Ryecroft, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ryecroft of——"

So Gwynneth Amelia Ryecroft and the criminal Ryecroft of the Old Bailey were so like each other that Denting recognized one from the portrait of the other!

Then it was through her criminal brother that Mrs. Bentley had heard of Denting — the locksmith who charged a lot and asked no questions!

* * * *

"All this must be pretty awful for you! Can't say anything helpful, you know! Is there anything I can do?"

Gwynneth Bentley thrilled at his voice. She felt then an urgent need for his presence that would not be denied.

"I am in rather a muddle," she answered. "My solicitor is coming and everybody wants directions and the police are all over the place. I should be glad of your help to straighten things out a bit."

Gleason replaced the receiver after saying that he would come at once. Convention seemed to lay it down that a bereaved woman should be attended by members of her own family. Still she had said she wanted him, so there was nothing for it but to go.

He reached the house shortly before eleven.

"How is Mrs. Bentley?"

"She's bearing up wonderfully, sir," whispered Ledbourne. "She's in the drawing room now and I think she is expecting you, sir."

Gleason went to the drawing room unannounced. Ledbourne was right. Gwynneth was bearing up magnificently. She looked positively radiant as she came toward him.

"O, Roy!" There was a little catch in her voice which at normal times would have moved him. She crept to him, put her hands on his shoulders and whispered, "We're free — free at last! I can hardly realize it."

"Yes — yes — I can't realize it, either!" he faltered.

"Aren't you pleased, dear?"

"Yes — yes, of course! Only — the fact is, Gwyn, talking about it just now makes one feel a bit ghoulish!"

"I shall never understand men," she said with a gesture of helplessness. "You wouldn't like me to pretend that I'm weighed down with grief?"

"Don't be ruffled, old thing! I don't want you to pretend anything. But I can't help remembering that old Bentley was a pretty decent sort. The only thing I'd got against him was that he was your husband."

For a moment Gwynneth was afraid that she had shocked her lover by what he was idiot enough to regard as her callousness, her lack of feeling for the dead man. It was a mystery to her that even a man like Gleason could regard a rival without malice and, while wishing him out of the way, be honestly sorry when he was murdered.

She stifled a bitter rejoinder and made the discovery that she was now terrified at the very idea of losing this man for whom she had sacrificed so much.

"You're a big hearted man, Roy, and I shall try to live up to you."

"O, I say!" he protested. "I feel just the same as you do, really. Blessed release and all that! But it seems a bit out of the picture to do a cock-a-whoop. Don't let's talk about poor old Bentley!"

Poor old Bentley! That was how he thought of the man whom she had seen merely as a maddening stumbling block to their happiness.

"Can't help feeling it was a mistake to employ that girl," he went on. "When you said you were giving Fate every chance I didn't take you seriously. And now — it's happened. Can't help feeling a bit — odd about it. As if we had — sort of helped. People may say that it was decent of you to give her another chance. But — as things have turned out — other people may say that you were taking a risk. There might be some — er — unpleasantness."

"You're getting muddled," she said irritably. "They won't say anything of the kind — because they think I didn't know until last night that she was Bessie Mersand."

"But you told the police and that James Watkin fellow that you and I had seen her in court that afternoon."

"What did you tell James Watkin?" she demanded.

"Nothing, my dear girl! Nothing that you hadn't told him yourself. He explained that you told the police and himself that you knew she was the Brighton girl. He said they didn't altogether believe you and that things were rather awkward. So, at his suggestion, I thought I'd make things a bit simpler for you by giving him a written statement that you and I both saw her that afternoon in court and that I recognized her when I came here. What's the matter?"

"Roy — you fool!"

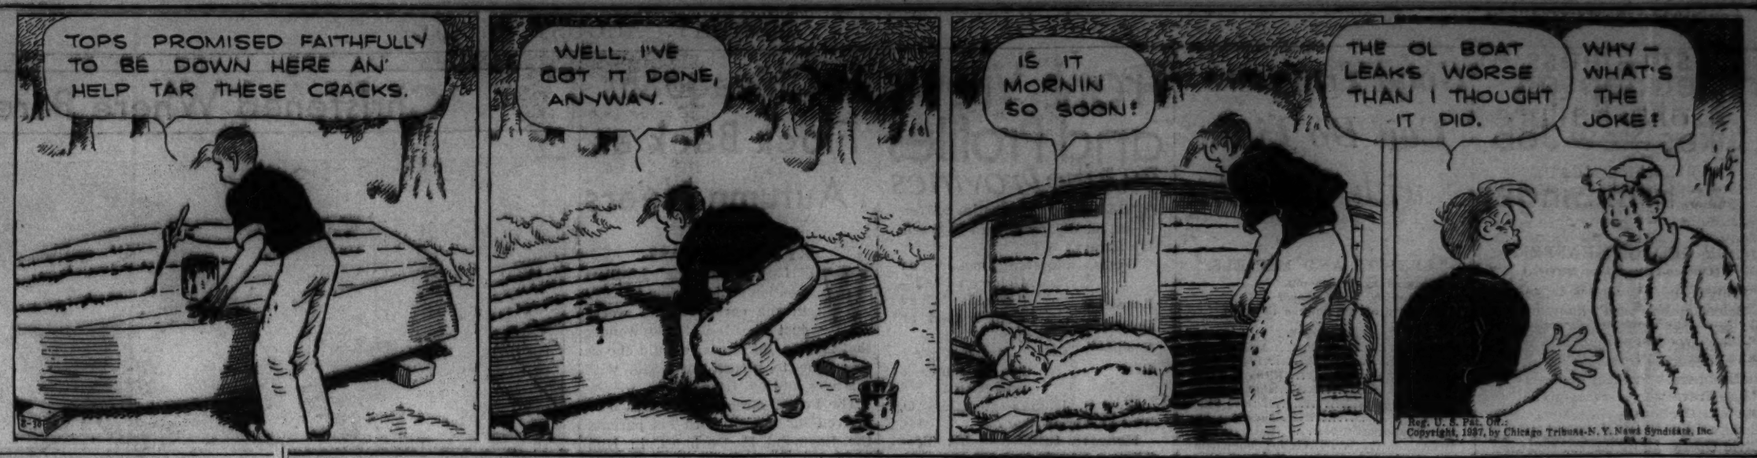
GASOLINE ALLEY—TAR BABY



Beau's Shady Reputation Is Worth Study

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune-New York News Syndicate, Inc.]

Mary is 16 and crazy about a boy of 19. He loves her, she believes, but one trouble is that he is of a different nationality, to which her people object. Secondly, he got in a jam with the police because, Mary says, the boy he went around with stole a car and took her friend riding in it, and on the ride the police got the pair of them. They were both sent to jail. Nothing could make the police believe that Mary's beau was innocent.

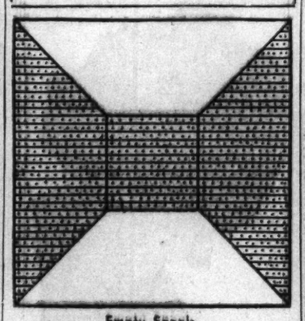
She adds: "My mother asks me where the boy gets money to spend. She says no one can spend the way he does without a job unless he is getting his money illegally. She won't believe what he tells me. He says he is on an allowance from an uncle.

"And another thing," Mary confides, "it is embarrassing the way people act toward my beau. They treat him as if he had been guilty of the offense for which he was innocently jailed. When I meet people through him they look at me so funny, too. I know what they are thinking. That I must be the kind of girl who goes around with bad boys, although I know my beau is not that!"

Well, after all, Mary, you are only 16. You think that that is grownup. It isn't quite. It is mature enough, however, to make you realize that old axiom about people being judged by the company they keep, if you'd use your 16-year-old head.

If the boy were innocent, as you protest, he's bearing the brunt of that very axiom. He was judged by the company he kept. He may have been innocent of the particular offense, but your mother's suspicions about the young man's income should be given reasonable consideration, Mary. Uncles aren't putting boys on easy street in the manner he confides to you. They might and do put a young nephew through school, or help him in some way to get a start vocationally. But, like your mother, we doubt the legitimacy of the boy's income. And, with her, we would beg you to consider your own reputation. You will be judged by that boy's company and, no matter how innocent and fine you may be, it will serve you nil in the eyes of people.

Old Spool Bed Is Inspiration of This Pieced Quilt



Empty Spools.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

The old spool bed served as the inspiration for this good looking pieced block entitled "Empty Spools." It is the type of pattern which is suitable not only for the Jenny Lind and old-fashioned spool beds, but also for those of any other period. A combination of printed and plain materials is the favorite selection, although two solid colors may be used effectively. The small six inch blocks are set together with the white parts of one joining the colored or printed part of the adjacent block.

What's Behind Dismalness of Cake Failure?

[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Dinners and dispositions by the thousands have been ruined by cake failures. Perhaps the butter cake fails to rise, or maybe it rises, but is dry and coarse in texture. The sponge cake may be flat as a pancake with a layer of tough, rubbery egg yolk at the bottom. Or a cake of either type may hump at the top and split open like a crater.

The causes for such disasters must be known before cures may be effected. Following are some of the most common cake difficulties and their causes. Tomorrow's column will discuss remedies.

1. A HEAVY, COMPACT CAKE: If it is a butter cake, the cause may be overbeating of the batter, using too much shortening or liquid, or too little sugar, underbeating egg yolks, or using the wrong baking temperature. If it is a sponge type cake, overbeating or underbeating the egg whites will cause heaviness. Overmixing the cake, causing loss of air, omitting an acid such as lemon juice or cream of tartar, or using a too hot oven will have the same effect.

2. COARSE GRAINED CAKE: A too slow oven or the use of all-purpose instead of cake flour will cause any type of cake to become coarse. Too much levening, use of liquid shortening, or insufficient creaming of shortening and sugar will make a butter cake coarse. Underbeating the eggs or insufficiently blending the batter, so that the air bubbles are not evenly distributed, will coarsen a sponge cake.

3. TOUGH CAKE: Too little sugar, too hot an oven, or overmixing the cake will have this result for any type of cake. Too little shortening will make a butter cake tough, and overbeating of egg whites will make a sponge cake tough.

4. DRY CAKE: Too much flour, too little sugar, overbeating the egg whites, and overbaking baking too long at a low temperature will make any cake dry. In addition, too much levening or too little shortening or liquid will ruin a butter cake.

5. SOGGY LAYER AT BOTTOM OF CAKE PAN: Undermixing of ingredients, especially underbeating of egg yolks, is the most common cause. The lower part of the oven may not be hot enough, or the flour may have been damp. If the shortening was too soft, if there was not enough levening or liquid, or if there was too much liquid, a butter cake may become soggy. Too many egg yolks in proportion to other ingredients will result in a soggy sponge cake.

6. SPONGE CAKE WHICH FALLS OUT OF THE PAN: A greased pan, insufficient baking or damp flour will have this result.

7. HUMPED, CRACKED CAKE: A hot oven or too much flour will cause humping. Too little liquid may cause it in a butter cake, overbeaten eggs in a sponge cake.

8. STICKY CRUST: Too much sugar or damp flour will cause this—also insufficient baking.

9. FALLEN CAKE: Too much sugar and insufficient baking are the primary causes. An overmeasurement of baking powder or soda, or of shortening, will cause a butter cake to fall.

10. UNDERSIZED CAKE: A too hot oven or baking the cake in an overlarge pan will have this effect. A short measurement of baking powder or soda will result in an undersized butter cake. A sponge cake will tend to be undersized if the egg whites are either underbeaten or overbeaten, if the batter is overmixed, if there is not enough sugar, or if the cake is removed from the pan before it is cold.

11. CAKE WHICH FALLS APART: Too much shortening, sugar or levening will cause this in a butter cake. Insufficient baking, careless removal of the cake from the pan, or removal too soon, will cause a sponge cake to fall apart.

12. CAKE WHICH STICKS TO PAN: If the cake is left in the pan too long, or if too much sugar was used, the cake will stick. If the pan was not properly prepared a butter cake will stick. If the oven was too cool during the last part of the baking period, a sponge cake will stick to the pan.

Neck 'Bulge' Sure to Mar Smart Attire

With fall clothes in the offing, don't you think it about time to give yourself a scrutinizing glance, from head to toes, to be sure there are no bulges that will make it a difficult task to assemble a smart fall outfit?

Many women who are ever so particular about keeping their hip and waist line under control are oblivious to the forming of a lump on the back of the neck, commonly known as the the "dowager's hump."

This lump is very often the result of poor posture. You get the habit of slumping, your shoulders are rounded and chest caved in. But while you're doing it there is forming this lump, which is not only ageing but which destroys all possibility of smartness in clothes.

During the summer you may have allowed yourself a let down from the usual routine, but you must remember there is always a day of reckoning afterward. You'll not want to wait too long to check up. Why not do it now and be ready for those new corselet gowns, which call for a sleek hipline and an erect figure.

Get back to the tried and true posture rules of walking with toes pointed straight ahead and chest up. This, together with a few exercises will set you right. I'll give you a few exercises for that unbecoming shoulder hump.

Assume correct standing position. Raise arms to horizontal position, palms up. Make small rearward circles, eight to ten inches in diameter, forcing shoulder blades to the rear, relaxing on the forward part of the circle.

Next, lie flat on the floor, face downward. Extend arms to the side, horizontally, palms down. Raise arms slowly backward, upward, forcing the shoulder blades together for a few seconds, then lower. Get so you can do this quickly. Stand. Stretch arms full length at sides, even with shoulders. Describe large circles, then clap hands alternately in front and back, trying not to bend the elbows.

You can have lovely hands. Valuable suggestions and tested methods on the care of the hands are given in Antoinette Donnelly's booklet, "Handmade Hand Beauty." On sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower. Price, 5 cents. Postpaid, 7 cents.

Distinctive Daytime Dress

WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCK.

Satin, sleek and sophisticated; sheers, soft and supple; and crêpe prints, gay and nonchalant, all are effective for this daytime dress which combines the beauties of draping and corseted lines. This frock can go almost anywhere. It's a grand date dress, perfect for afternoon events, and is a comfortable model you can wear with assurance anywhere you go.

The original is fashioned of black satin, as illustrated in the sketch at the right. The neckline is V and plain. A broad effect is created for the shoulders by the straight-across yoke. The bodice has soft draping originating in gathers beginning in the waistline panel. The sleeves are puffed at the shoulders, and fit sleekly all the way to the wrist. If you wish short sleeves, you will like the way they flow freely. The skirt is paneled and has graceful width without the use of plaits.

Style No. 2009 is designed for sizes 16, 18 and 20 years, and 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 4 yards of 39 inch material.

Kemper to rush to her bedside in London from Baden-Baden. Mr. Kemper met his daughter in Quebec, for Mr. Roberts had to go directly to his home in Boston, but he will join his wife for the Labor day week-end. Until she is able to accompany him to Boston he will commute between Boston and Chicago, spending almost every week-end in Winnetka.

Miss Mildred Kemper is returning to Smith college next month, and Mrs. Kemper's son, Frank Stout, is going to Tucson, Ariz., to enter the Evans school.

Patricia Nash to Wed at Parents' Island Home.

Over the Labor day week-end several of their Chicago friends will journey up to Madeline Island in Lake Superior for the wedding of Miss Patricia Nash and Oliver M. Knode Jr. The ceremony is to take place Labor day in the historic old Congregational church on the island, where Miss Nash's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Nash, have their summer home. The church is the oldest of the denomination in Wisconsin and originally was a mission for Indians and trappers.

Dr. Lambert Ennis returned from Pasadena, Cal., where he was doing research at the Huntington library. On his way home he stopped off to visit his sister, Miss Margaret Ennis, at Tepee lodge, near Sheridan, Wyo.

Mrs. Lennox Haldeman, president of the Sunbeam league of Chicago, will be hostess to the directors and advisory board of the league at a bridge luncheon today at the South Shore Country club. There will be a general discussion of the league's annual dinner-dance, which is to be a Derby dance, Nov. 6 at the Blackstone hotel.

Miss Mary Warner, daughter of the Rawleigh Warners of Winnetka, has planned a luncheon party for Tuesday, Sept. 14, for two of the season's debutantes, Miss Margot Webbe and Miss Virginia Creigh. The Warner family recently returned from abroad.

Green Lake Yacht Club to Give Dance Saturday.

Added to other gala Labor day events at Green Lake, Wis., is a dance to be given by the Green Lake Yacht club at the Tuscumbria Country club on Saturday. The clubhouse will be decorated especially for the occasion, and John Dunham, commodore of the yacht club, will present the trophies for the season's races.

There is a cup for the winner of the class C races and another for the snipe class, as well as several other cups, including the Peacock trophy and the Oakwood trophy.

The Mills College Club of Chicago will hold a luncheon for alumnæ and students and freshmen about to enter the Oakland, Cal., school Saturday at the Georgian hotel in Evanston. Miss Jean Clark and Miss Mary Elizabeth Thurson are assisting Mrs. Charles S. Lewis Jr. of Glencoe with arrangements for the event.

Miss Gertrude Galloway, the debutante daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. Galloway, is among the students returning to Mills college.

Sick Children Merit Extra Consideration

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune-New York News Syndicate, Inc.]

A mother writes:

"My Dear Mrs. Bevans: I have read with much interest this morning your article in the paper on parents making children surly.

"My little boy will soon be seventeen months old. He suffered a second degree burn on his left hand and arm recently. And I was advised by relatives that he should be humored more and I should not be very stern with him while his arm is healing.

"I do not feel he should have anything or everything he wants when he wants it, and he has developed a tendency to kick and jump up and down. He, also, has a habit of biting any one whether he is angry or playing. I know the kicking and jumping to be temper, but I have thought the biting might be because he is getting more teeth; but it is a very bad and painful habit.

"Any advice or literature you can give me to correct these tendencies will be very much appreciated."

I am afraid I lean rather strongly toward leniency where an ill child is concerned. While, of course, it is possible to overwhelm a child with petting and indulgence when he is sick or convalescing, I do not believe that giving him extra consideration and diversion and a great deal more patience really harms his personality.

When people stress so much the fact that if a child is indulged when he is sick he is going to misbehave badly when he is well, and carry over a willful and demanding attitude, they do not take into consideration the fact that when a child gets well his attitude changes because his life is very different—he is able to be active, he is free from pain, and his whole outlook becomes normal again. He is then almost certain to fall back into normal ways of behavior. Where this does not happen a wise mother can very gradually bring about.

In connection with this particular letter we might add briefly that this small boy merits a great deal of patience—that teething is sometimes at the back of this biting habit—that slapping and biting is a phase children outgrow though they do need a little restraint; that tantrums pass when ignored. Something, anything that will interest and divert this little boy, should be found.

"How to Gain Obedience Without Punishment" is the name of a booklet that is helpful when one is beginning to instill this habit. It is sent out on receipt of a 3 cent stamped self-addressed envelope. Address Mrs. Bevans, The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Bevans' column also appears in The Sunday Tribune.

Vicar Who Married Edward Preaches on Flies and Ointment

The Rev. R. Anderson Jardine, the hedge priest who defied the Church of England to perform the religious ceremony joining in marriage the duke of Windsor, the former King Edward VIII, of England, and Mrs. Wallis Warfield [Simpson], preached two sermons yesterday at the Chicago Gospel tabernacle, 815 Barry avenue. He will preach there all of this week.

Before discussing flies [dead], the Rev. Mr. Jardine told the throng which crowded the tabernacle about his break with the Church of England. He explained that he will have no job when he returns home, since his resignation as vicar of Darlington, England, becomes effective Oct. 1.

Evangelist Clarence Erickson, pastor of the tabernacle, told his congregation the Rev. Dr. Jardine had been called into conflict with his church for preaching "fundamental" religion on the street long before he married the duke of Windsor.

The "fundamental" gospel emphasized by the Chicago tabernacle emphasizes "the second coming of Christ." Evangelist Erickson emphasized the announcement of Dr. Jardine's closing sermon next Sunday night under the subject, "Why Christ Must Return."

HOW TO KEEP FROM GROWING OLD

Culbertson's "Gold Book of Bidding and Play"

WHEN TO MAKE AN ASKING BID.

[Copyright: 1937: By Ely Culbertson.]

The following example illustrates the reasoning which leads the player to make a slam try with an asking bid:

South holds ♠ A J 7 5 4 ♥ K Q J ♦ A 9 6 3 ♣ 7 and makes an opening bid of one spade. His partner, North, raises him to three spades. The partnership hands are:

South:
♠ A J 7 5 4 ♥ K Q J ♦ A 9 6 3 ♣ 7
North:
♠ Q 10 6 3 ♥ A 5 3 2 ♦ K 7 ♣ A 9 5

South must now determine whether North can take care of the quick losers and also the diamond losers. South asks by bidding four diamonds. North responds with four no trump. South, having the diamond ace, knows that North has second round control in diamonds and two aces in addition. With eleven winners already shown by the bidding, and with at worst a finesse for the twelfth, South can safely bid six spades.

If North's hand had been:
♠ K Q 10 6 3 ♥ A 10 3 ♦ 8 7 2 ♣ A K
it would have been a far better hand viewed singly, but there would have been two diamond losers, and by means of the asking bids South would have steered clear of the slam.

The bidding [both sides vulnerable]:

East	South	West	North
1 heart	2 diamonds	Pass	2 hearts [1]
Pass	3 diamonds	Pass	3 hearts [2]
Double	3 no trump	Pass	Pass
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass

[1] North was suspicious of East's opening heart bid.

[2] North thought his hand was worth one more shot toward game.

West, rather than open a singleton through such heart strength as North had shown, led his fourth best spade. East, after some thought, decided that declarer probably had at least the spade king and that the best defense therefore was to concede the first spade trick, thus retaining the ace and a low spade for communication to partner's hand. Declarer won, and, gauging that the only chance for success lay in the establishment of the diamond suit, proceeded to go about that plan in workmanlike fashion.

He led the club queen and, West properly ducking, went right up with dummy's ace. This was sound play; the club finesse, even if successful, would have very little bearing on the final outcome. On a diamond lead from dummy, East then made a fatal error. He stepped up with the ace, returning the ace and a low spade. Declarer won and, with his heart in his mouth, planked down the diamond king. To his joy the suit broke and he rattled off five more diamond tricks for his contract.

East had been in too great a hurry about accepting his diamond ace. Apparently he thought that, since he had only the A-Q-blank, it did not matter which one he played, but in this he was quite mistaken. Had he held up his ace for one round he could have shut declarer out of his own hand forever after. On winning the second diamond lead he could cash the spade ace and then exit with a club. West would win and lock dummy on lead so that eventually East would have to be given two heart tricks.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

♠ Q 8 6 5 ♥ K J 9 4 ♦ A K 8 ♣ 10 5?

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

The "page boy" effect in hair styles is quite all right when it's right, but it's rarely perfect. The in-between stages of the page boy roll are something fearful to see.

Our idea is that if you can't keep your long bob in perfect condition you'd better give it up. The straggly, tumbling masses of hair that fall upon many shoulders are grievous sins against good grooming. If the hair is carefully rolled or attractively curled there can be no complaints, but how much of this do you see? Nine out of ten long bobs that we see are sloppy looking.

If you're considering letting your hair grow longer don't be under the impression that it's much simpler to take care of that way. It isn't. It's actually more of a problem—it means more frequent visits to the hairdresser and more care at home to keep it well groomed. The completely casual effect is rarely successful. Remember that in the case of the movie stars you admire this casual effect is a carefully studied and tended one.

We'd much rather see a knot pinned low on the back of the neck than the straggling effects we see nowadays—and we have a hunch that that's the way the next hair style wind will blow unless there's a sudden sharp swing back to shorter hair.

Try a rear view of your own hair if you've gone in for the long bob. If you examine your beauty conscience and find that while it's all right from the front it's terrible from the back we suggest that you go back to hairpins or have it snipped off neatly!

ALL-AMERICANS ANALYZE PACKER OFFENSIVE POWER

SQUAD TO WORK OUT DEFENSE IN TWO SESSIONS

Baugh Is Key to Own Attack.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The All-American football squad went to school yesterday morning in the Dyche stadium lecture room. Prof. Gus Dorais, head coach of the All-American staf, thumbed his pages of notes and with these aids delivered an hour's talk on defense against the Green Bay Packers whom his pupils will meet at Soldiers' field Wednesday night in the fourth annual All-Star charity game sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

We do not know the source of Dorais' information on the Packers. Nor is it politic to divulge the information he gave his boys. But if he missed any major point in the Packers' formations and individual strength and weaknesses of the Packers' men, we've also missed those same items during the years we've seen Green Bay play.

Hold Rehersal Tonight.

The question, of course, is whether or not the All-Americans will carry out their instructions in the excitement of the game. But it all sounded mighty good yesterday. The players will work out these plans at Dyche stadium this morning. Tonight they will hold rehersal at Soldiers' field. The two workouts will be secret.

The Packers, no doubt, will be glad to know that Milt Gantenbein is highly regarded by the All-Americans. Gantenbein plays his defensive position as the down and position of the ball on the field dictates. His end of the line will be most difficult to turn. Don Hutson, who is expected to start at left end in tribute to his offensive ability, still is only a mediocre end on defense, fairly easy to block on kicks, and generally uses only one type of play at his flank. Wayland Becker is rated far better on defense.

Bruder Not a Ground Gainer.

Hank Bruder is a fine blocker, but Bruder is not a ground gainer because he can't block for himself. Monnett, Laws, and Miller are fast, good pass receivers, but only one can be used at a time if Arnie Herber is kept in the game at right half. Hinkle, a fine kicker and fair plunger, may or may not cause trouble. Since this is an important game, Hinkle is expected to be at his best. George Sauer, former Nebraska full back, gets a unanimous vote as the most feared back on the Green Bay eleven. As Sauer plays, so may the game be decided.

These are a few candid camera shots of opinions the All-Americans have of their rivals.

Some one remarked yesterday about the vulnerability of Sammy Baugh, the All-Americans' great passer, around whom the coaches have built a formidable air attack. In effect, the comment was that if anything happened to Baugh, if, for instance a big Packer lineman should fall on him quite heavily, would he be able to carry on?

Bernie Moore, coach at Louisiana State, and a member of the college staf, has seen quite a bit of Baugh in the last three years. Entirely too much, Bernie will tell you.

"A lot of football teams have

Packer Host Set to March on Battlefield

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Green Bay, Wis., Aug. 29.—Green Bay, poised on the threshold of a great adventure, prepared today to follow its world champion Packers to Chicago in the largest football migration in the history of Wisconsin. Within 72 hours, railroad and highway trafic officials estimate, 15,000 loyalists will cross the border to converge on Soldiers' field Wednesday night, site and zero hour of the fourth annual All-Star battle. Green Bay itself will furnish 7,500 of this throng.

Mayor John S. Farrell yesterday issued an official request to all business houses and factories that they declare Wednesday a holiday for employés with tickets to the game. In many cases this means shutting up shop and the bosses were busy printing signs for the front window: "Gone to Chicago." Some of the more public spirited sign painters added a curt "Why haven't you?"

Four Special Trains.

Four special trains, complete with bars, buffets and radios in the lounge cars, will leave here Wednesday. Approximately 2,200 fans will ride the specials, which return to Green Bay immediately after the game. All regular sections southbound out of the city will carry extra cars beginning Tuesday, when the special four day All-Star excursion rate becomes effective.

Those who cannot make the trip will attend radio parties, following their heroes up and down the field from a chair at one of the scores of cocktail lounges arranging a special entertainment or at gatherings in pri-

LEGLESS RIVER SWIMMER ENDS 153 MILE TRIP

New York, Aug. 29.—[Special.]—Charles Zimmy, 46 year old legless swimmer, tonight completed his endurance swim from Albany when he passed under the George Washington bridge shortly after 9 o'clock. This was his announced goal when he plunged off a dock in Albany last Monday night and started his trip down the Hudson.

As a matter of record, Zimmy outdid his own expectations and was forced to land at the 125th street ferry landing, below the bridge, when strong tides carried him beyond the original goal. He had ridden the ebb tide down the river today after resting in the water off Alpine, N. J., before beginning the last leg of his 153 mile swim. He was in the water 144 hours.

REMEMBER LOUIS AND FARR? THEY STILL MUST FIGHT

New York Calm Despite Battle of Titans.

Fight Facts

Time of bout—9 p. m. [Chicago time]. May be advanced if weather threatening.

BY FRENCH LANE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 29.—Unleashed for the second time, Joe Louis, the world's heavyweight champion, and Tommy Farr, the challenger from the British empire, will have their fight at Yankee stadium tomorrow night, provided it doesn't rain.

The weather man says, "Tomorrow partly cloudy, with probable showers at night." So what!

If it has done nothing else the four day delay has at least had the effect of a hypodermic in the Twentieth Century Sporting club's counting room. What it has done to the two fighters may be another story.

Farr Is Misbehaving.

Farr—whom some have tagged as Mike Jacob's problem child—is not behaving in routine fashion. The first time he put on the gloves following the postponement from last Thursday he was knocked down by his sparmate, Abe Feldman. Old Job Churchill, his discoverer, claims the former coal miner from Tonypandy, Wales, wasn't knocked down at all, but merely slipped. The fact remains, however, that the seat of his soiled training trunks gave the canvas a big kiss a fraction of a second after Feldman had hit him on the chin.

Farr went through his last training routine at Long Branch today. He did his six miles of road work this morning, and while a few hundred spectators—most of them his own countrymen—looked on engaged in exhibition calisthenics this afternoon.

"I'll be there on the scales looking Champ Looie in the eye at noon tomorrow," said the Welshman.

Joe Is Getting Tougher.

In the meantime Joe seems to be growing a little more fierce. Among other things he knocked his favorite punching bag, Pal Silvers, against the ropes with such a thud that the ropes gave way. Silvers landed on his head, but was not seriously injured.

That ended Joe's preparation for the defense of his title which he won in Chicago last June 22. He did his usual eight miles of road work this morning and that was all. He will break camp at about 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and go to the state administration building's stuffy basement for the second weighing in. He expects to scale 197 or 198 pounds. Farr announced he will weigh about 203 pounds.

It looks like a $400,000 gate, Prof. Mike Jacobs said tonight. On last Thursday the seat sale indicated that receipts would not total much more than $200,000.

Louis 7 to 1 Favorite.

The betting situation remains unchanged. Louis is the 7 to 1 favorite to win. They're still wagering 4 to 1 that he knocks out the Britisher.

There are no "Hurrahs for Farr" nor any "Huzzahs for Louis" here tonight, except in Harlem, where everybody is champing at the bit.

So if the gate really totals $400,000, as Promoter Jacobs predicts, it will be because it is Monday night. New Yorkers must have some place to go and there is always a chance of an upset in any fist fight.

Cubs Play Two Men Short; Dream of Big Series Cuts

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 29.—Gotham's baseball fans, steamed up by the fact that the Giants spent several hours in first place today after trailing by seven games within the month of August, tonight again are discussing the prospects for the second successive "5 cent world series." And as they josh about the big nose dive of the Chicago Cubs some of the boys and girls are getting just a little catty.

New York never has forgotten the razz choir directed by Babe Ruth in 1932. That year, fans recall, Mark Koenig was the greatest individual contributor to the rush of the Cubs to a pennant. And Mark, who had been rushed in after the season started, was voted a half share in the Cubs' world series split that year.

Babe Leads the Choir.

Babe Ruth bellowed loudest about the alleged cheap skate action of the Cubs and other players and fans kept the heat turned on during the world series, which the Cubs lost to the Yanks in four straight, and for many months thereafter.

And now, in the new razzing of the Cubs, some one noticed that the Cubs, embarrassed by lack of replacements, have been operating under the player limit. It is pointed out by scoffers that the Cubs, realizing that if they had a full legal force of 23 players there would be a maximum number of cuts in the anticipated world series melon, have favored Manager Grimm's scrimp personnel policy.

The Cubs could have added two players immediately at the outset of their nose dive. But this would have meant spreading the cut, even if late comers were held to a short share as in the case of Koenig.

How About It, Charley?

The Cub officials, not tightwads like their employés of 1932, Grimm's first year as manager, would not welcome any thin slices, though the purse distribution is solely in the hands of the manager and players. But, the Gotham ribbers say, the Cub front office has not urged Grimm to round out his roster to full playing strength, fearing another shameful disbursement like that made to Koenig if some helpful new player joined the club this late in the season.

If Grimm has not attempted a share conservation program, critics

CUBS LOSE, 10-3; THEN WIN, 2 TO 1; LEAD BY 2 POINTS

French and Demaree's Homer Save 2d Game.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 29.—The Cubs' lead which a few short weeks ago was an impressive total of seven games dwindled some more today. That carefree gang known as the Phillies helped to puncture the pennant bubble momentarily by defeating the Chicagoans in the first half of a double-header, 10 to 3. Then, with the loss of first place looming, the Cubs revived to take the second battle, 2 to 1, and cling to their honors by a two point margin over the pursuing Giants.

The Cubs, seemingly shaky, so much so in fact that Bill Jurges insisted on returning to short in the second affair, his bad shoulder notwithstanding, were off color throughout the afternoon. They erred while Bill Lee and Clyde Shoun were suffering enough with enemy hits in the opening game. They ran bases like crazy men in the second game and continued to be weak with their bats, but were carried through successfully by Larry French's southpaw pitching and Frank Demaree's No. 16 homer.

Klein Puts On an Exhibition.

The first struggle, if you overlook four Cub errors and some of the hits off Lee and Shoun, was mainly a holiday exhibition by Chuck Klein before an assemblage of 15,843. Chuck was a case of the bad penny coming home. The one time Cub chuckled heartily at his old pals as he unfolded one homer off Bill Lee and another homer and a run producing single off Shoun. Klein drove in four runs and scored a fifth one himself because his single in the eighth was followed by a homer from the bat of Earl Browne, a Pittsburgh graduate.

Throughout the first game the Cubs had to contend with Hugh Mulcahy, a young man who usually is thankful if he can hold off the enemy for a couple of innings. Mulcahy found the Chicagoans troublesome in only one inning, the third, when a homer by Phil Cavarretta and a couple of lesser hits scored three to give the league leaders a 3 to 1 margin. It didn't take Lee long, errors assisting, to drop into a tie and in the fifth he went away when four hits were unloaded on top of a pass.

The Cubs were good for only five hits in the second game, four off Wayne [Lefty] La Master in seven innings. But one of the four was decisive. It was Demaree's smash which went into the left field bleachers after Billy Herman had drawn free passage in the sixth. Then French, after a series of thrilling escapes, really went to work to protect his two run margin. In the last four innings he yielded only three hits, one a Leo Norris homer, which kept the southpaw veteran from getting a shutout in his season's eleventh victory.

FIRST GAME

The Phils made a little headway against Lee in the opening inning of the first game when Norris clouted a homer into the left field seats, a fairly respectable smack. Cavarretta tied this up with his homer over the right field fence to start the third. Before the inning was concluded two more Chicagoans scored. Marty walked, stepped up a notch on Lee's bunt and scored on Hack's single. Hack took second on the throw in and scampered home on Galan's single. Galan stole second, but was left there by Herman and Demaree.

Lee was shaken up by a pass, a double and a single in the third, but the Phils scored only one run. The pass went to Young who was bunted to second by Mulcahy. Norris doubled off the right field wall and Young scored. The Phils picked up the tying run without much labor on

MACKS GET 12 IN FIRST INNING; LEAGUE RECORD

Whitehead Allows 7 Hits in Victory.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The White Sox yesterday afternoon absorbed a 16 to 0 licking in the first game of a double-header with the Philadelphia Athletics at Comiskey park. The Athletics scored a dozen runs in the first inning, during the course of which they wrecked the comeback effort of Monty Stratton, Chicago ace right-hander, who had been out of action since Aug. 5. Then the Athletics discovered they had placed to many runs in one basket and dropped the second game, 5 to 3, though they had the fun of scaring the Sox with a two run rally in the ninth.

During the first inning romp in the first game Bob Johnson, the A's left fielder, drove in six runs, setting a new American league record for runs batted in in one inning and tying the major league record, set by Fred Merkle on May 13, 1911, when he was a member of the New York Giants. The total of a dozen was the greatest number of runs any American league team ever scored in the first inning of a championship game.

Bob Goes Right Ahead.

Johnson did not rest on his first inning laurels. In addition to the single and homer he knocked in the first inning he socked a double in the fifth, another homer in the seventh and wound up with his fifth hit, a single in the ninth. He scored four runs and hit for twelve bases.

The entire White Sox team made only five hits for half as many bases as Johnson alone accounted for.

In the second game the Sox pecked away at Harry Kelley until they had built up a 5 to 1 lead for Johnny Whitehead at the end of the seventh. The score at this point would have been 5 to 0 but for errors by Luke Appling on two successive double play balls, but any chagrin which Whitehead might have felt at the nature of his failure to return shutout for shutout was eased by a Philadelphia rally in the ninth.

A's Score a Couple.

A single by Bill Werber, a hit batsman, and a triple by Jess Hill gave the A's two runs in this inning and called for the reliever, Clint Brown. Brown promptly struck out Frank Hayes and made Russ Peters pop out to end the strenuous afternoon.

Despite the shocking aspects of the early afternoon, the Sox gained a half game on the second place Detroit Tigers, whom they now trail by two games.

FIRST GAME

Recline comfortably; then read the log of the Athletics' record first inning of the first game. Moses opened with a double to right and Stratton walked Finney. The Sox got a break when Umpire Kolls, from a point near third, called out Werber on his bunt. Johnson got his record under way when he drove in Moses and Finney with a single to right center. Hill beat out a bunt toward third and then he and Johnson executed a double steal. When Sewell threw into left Johnson scored and Hill reached third.

Brucker walked, after which Peters doubled to left, Hill scoring and Brucker stopping at third. At this point Manager Dykes adjudged Stratton's comeback effort something short of a success and summoned Rigney. Newsome was given an intentional pass, filling the bases and Caster doubled to left, scoring Brucker, Peters, and Newsome. Moses singled to right, scoring Caster and, when Walker juggled the ball Moses reached second.

Goes On and On.

Finney was given an intentional pass, and Werber was given one which wasn't intentional, filling the bases. Johnson then knocked his No. 17 homer, a shot off the wall in left center, scoring behind Moses, Finney, and Werber to lift his runs batted in total for the inning to six, the new American league record. Hill walked, but the rally was nipped in the bud when Brucker hit into a double play, Appling to Piet to Dykes.

Most of the things that happened after the first inning were anti-climactic, of course. The A's scored in the fourth on a walk to Hill, Brucker's sacrifice and Peters' single and again in the fifth when Johnson doubled, took third on a wild pitch and counted on Hill's single to center.

Johnson continued red hot when he came up with two out in the seventh. He banged his No. 18 homer into the left field stands.

The A's finished their scoring for the game with one run in the ninth and they had the bases full when their offensive ended. There were three singles in the inning, including Johnson's fifth straight hit, a single.

SECOND GAME

The Sox, after Walker had wasted his first hit in five games in the first inning, and Dykes had wasted a single in the second, scored their first run

WILMETTE HAS A FINE HARBOR, BUT IT'S FULL OF SAND

Yachtsmen Toil Overtime Navigating Shallows.

Wilmette harbor, located in south Wilmette at the Sheridan road bridge which spans the drainage canal locks, moors more boats per acre than any other harbor in the United States. Yet this same harbor, according to those who secure their power and sailing craft to its buoys, today has the poorest facilities on Lake Michigan for the handling of water traffic.

Built in 1912, the harbor, landlocked and resembling roughly in shape an Indian arrowhead, covers five acres, and moors approximately 170 boats, which include one of the largest star class sailing fleets in the world. Last year there were 11,937 harbor passages recorded, a figure which would rank this pleasure craft port with the busiest on the Great Lakes.

It Gets More Difficult.

For several years members of the Sheridan Shore yacht club and other yachtsmen who rent space have been struggling to get their craft out of a harbor which gradually has been filling with sediment until today it is only 18 inches deep in some spots. With the exception of a channel 15 feet in width which skirts the north bank and which measures 3½ to 8 feet deep and a 200 foot bottle-neck near the drainage canal locks at the west end of the harbor, the depth of the port runs between 18 inches and 4½ feet.

Sanitary district officials when approached by Sheridan Yacht club members on the possibility of mooring boats above the locks, pointed out that this was impractical because the canal at this point was not navigable and that it would be impossible to take sailboats [60 per cent of the harbor's craft are sailboats] through the locks. The water in the lock is ten feet deep.

Current Is Constant.

The boats would have to be moored on the banks, as the canal is only about 90 feet wide above the locks. There they would be subject to a constant current, the result of the sucking of water into the canal. The depth immediately above the locks is 12 feet in the center and the bottom slopes up gradually to the water's edge. A few boats are moored along the bottle-neck below the locks, the width at this point being about 100 feet and the depth approximately 12 feet.

Boys may be seen wading about the middle of the harbor with the water coming barely to their thighs. Some days, when the lake is calm and the water low, the sandy bottom may be seen peeking above the water in various spots. It is from such a harbor—ideally located and possessing the potential facilities to serve adequately hundreds of north shore residents—that yachtsmen try to steer their pleasure craft.

It Could Be the Finest.

North shore yachting leaders long have realized the cramped condition of Wilmette harbor, which they say could be made one of the most desirable on Lake Michigan. Late in 1935 boat owners and business men organized the North Shore Harbor association to unify efforts to obtain government aid on the problem.

As a result of the group's efforts the federal board of engineers for rivers and harbors approved in March of 1936 a project to enlarge the harbor to 30 acres. But the war department turned down the project last summer. The latest attempt for improvement was a state dredging project, stated last last July and specifying the removal of 40,000 cubic yards of sand from the harbor bottom.

The work came to a halt Aug. 11 with only 3,500 cubic yards of sand removed. Julius Heg, McHenry, Ill., the contractor, declared that he had not been provided with enough space to receive the sand taken out. The state contended that ample room had been provided, but that he did not have enough equipment to carry the material to those spots.

Too Much Time Is Required.

In the meantime Wilmette harbor yachtsmen continue to paddle and coax their craft out into the lake often taking 20 minutes for a passage which should be accomplished in five minutes or less. The coast guard, which maintains a radio equipped station at the harbor, continues to struggle to get its lifeboats over the shoal at the harbor entrance.

Last season approximately 4,000 boats passed off the Wilmette point, technically called a port of refuge [and, incidentally, the only commercial harbor between Waukegan and Belmont avenue, a stretch of almost 30 miles], but unable to live up to the rating because of the shallowness of the harbor.

TED DUNCAN WINS MIDGET FEATURE; HARTSFELD IS 2D

Ted Duncan, central states champion, won the 40 lap feature event of the midget auto racing card last night at the Riverview speedway and became a strong candidate for western championship honors Sept. 12. His time was 10:57. He led his nearest opponent, Art Hartsfeld of Toledo, O., by a quarter of a lap.

GERMAN PAIR ENTERS FINALS IN U. S. DOUBLES

Brookline, Mass., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Baron Gottfried von Cramm and Henner Henkel of Germany became the first foreigners to reach the final of the national doubles tennis tournament in nine years today when they defeated the veteran John Van Ryn and his new partner, ycung Joe Hunt of Los Angeles, 6-4, 6-8, 14-12, 6-4, at Longwood.

The defending champions, Don Budge and Gene Mako, gained their third consecutive final in this event by breezing through Bryan Grant, Atlanta, and Wayne Sabin, Los Angeles, for a 6-4, 6-3, 7-5 victory.

Mrs. John Van Ryn and Carolin Babcock, 1936 winners, and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan and Alice Marble, the national singles champion, gained the final round in the women's division. The defending champions eliminated the British team, Joan Ingram and Evelyn Dearman, 6-3, 5-7, 6-2, and Mrs. Fabyan and Miss Marble eliminated the top ranking foreign threats, Kay Stammers and Freda James of England, 6-3, 7-5.

CHICAGO RIDERS TAKE HONORS IN C. Y. O. BIKE RACES

Kenosha, Wis., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—Chicago riders took a major portion of the prizes in the first annual Wisconsin-Illinois C. Y. O. bicycle races today. Erwin Pesek, Chicago C. Y. O., won the 25 mile senior race; Harry Smessaert, T. J. Bowler club, Chicago, was second, and Fred Pesek, Erwin's brother, was third.

In the elapsed time ratings in the 25 mile senior race Frank Dvorski, Kenosha, was first; Early Kelly, Chicago C. Y. O., second; Gerry Guttormsen, Kenosha, third; William Bina, Chicago C. Y. O., fourth. The winner's time was 57:00.

Edward Kuehn, T. J. Bowler club, Chicago, was first in the junior 10 mile race; Marvin Thomson, Belgian-American club, Chicago, second; and Bill Johann, Chicago C. Y. O., third. The time was 29:02.

ARON SEEKS 9TH VICTORY IN ROW; MEETS MANFREDO

Welterweights Headline Marigold Card.

Al Manfredo, one of California's best welterweight boxers, will meet Milt Aron of Dubuque, Ia., in ten rounds at Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street, tonight.

It will be quite an accomplishment if Al wins as Aron has not been defeated in more than a year.

Moreover, Aron, who is called Illinois' No. 1 contender, has conquered his last eight opponents, five by knockouts. His victims include George Salvadore, Frankie Sagillo, Gaston Le Cadre, Harold Brown, and Laddie Tonelli.

Expect More than 3,000.

Interest in the match is such that arrangements are being made to handle a crowd in excess of 3,000.

As an added attraction the promoters will offer a blow by blow account of the Louis-Farr title bout through a loud speaker radio attachment.

Campagna Meets Kettles.

Contests at five rounds bring together Emil Campagna and Bill Palmer, and Alex Kettles and Bernie Bowman. Frankie Agnes and Phil Saeli will be opponents at four rounds, as will Pat Schoenberger and Joe Moore.

Pat Kelly will meet Rudy Kay and Jack Claybourn is paired with Fred Grubmier in a double windup on the wrestling card at White City, 63d street and South Park avenue, tonight. Each match is limited to one hour. Frank Welger opposes Abie Kaplan, Frankie Talaber clashes with Angelo Martini, and Pete Bartz encounters Billy Goelz. . . . Bill Thomas, Illinois Athletic club welterweight winner, and Sherman Edwards, Joliet sectional Golden Gloves title holder, have been matched to top the amateur show presented under the joint auspices of Mike Hechinger and Sammy Spunt at Northwest stadium, 4848 Irving Park boulevard, tonight. . . . Davey Day and Charley Gomer have been signed to meet in a ten round headliner at Marigold a week from tomorrow.

Today's scheduled meeting of the Illinois athletic board has been postponed until Wednesday at 3 p. m.

HOOGERHYDE AND MISS YANKE WIN IN STATE ARCHERY

Russ Hoogerhyde of Northbrook, Ill., Renette Yanke of the Chicago club, and Bob Thompson of Palmer park, Chicago, won Illinois state archery championships at Grant park yesterday.

Hoogerhyde won the men's York rounds with a total of 1,434. Larry Layer of Clarendon Hills, 1,356, and Bert Archambault of the Lincoln park club, defending champion, 1,349, were second and third.

Renette Yanke, representing the Chicago club, took the lead in the women's national round Saturday and finished yesterday with a 966 score, while Hazel Korn of La Salle, Ill., the defending titleholder, was second with 832. Jean Archambault, appearing in her first tournament, won third place with 801.

MARY L. LEADS FLEET OF 21 IN COLUMBIA RACE

Mary L., Lore Alford's 27 foot sloop, defeated a fleet of 21 windjammers that raced in the first of a series of eight closed races held by the Columbia Yacht club yesterday. A Tumlaren class yacht built in Sweden, Mary L. defeated larger cruising craft, racing Star boats, and veteran Seawanhaka sloops. M. C. Norton's Vera Jean, a Friendship type cruising sloop, was accorded second on handicaps. The corrected time for the winner was 1 hour 4 minutes 38 seconds, and for the runner-up 1:22:24. Victory, Carl Norberg's 39 foot cutter, was third in 1:40:34, followed by Commodore Kenneth Ball's Aloha, in 1:41:17.

Betty Bro, Commodore Milton Friend's 36 foot cutter, was first to finish, but placed fifth on a corrected time of 1:41:42.

Winnetka Wins to Tie for Lead in Cricket League

Winnetka tied Washington Park for the lead in the Illinois Cricket league by defeating the south siders, 34 to 21, yesterday. Chicago gained second place by defeating Milwaukee, 128 to 79. Melbourne defeated Lake Shore, 99 to 43, and Oak Park defeated Garfield Park, 48 to 45.

ROUND TRIP 75c

Woods and Waters by Bob Becker

The bonefish, the speedster of the Florida keys, has been voted the "greatest game fish" by leading anglers, fishing writers, and others who know their fresh and salt water angling. Mortimer H. Cobb, well known New York fishing authority, has just concluded a poll to see how leading anglers, columnists, and fishing experts rate the various species of game fish for their sporting qualities.

Ballots were received from more than 65 men including Van Campen Heilner, one of the greatest authorities on salt water angling that we have in the country today. When the ballots were checked it was found that the bonefish had more votes than any other salt water species. The tarpon ranked second. Bluefish, wahoo, tuna, marlin and other salt water species were also rans.

In the poll to determine the greatest game fish in fresh water Cobb reports that the small mouth black bass won without being closely pressed by any other species. A large majority of the 65 fishing writers and others who voted ranked the small mouth number one on their list. The fish that was placed second was a surprise. The Atlantic salmon was the nomination . . . a choice that most of us would class as "doubtful."

Our nomination for the sportiest salt water fish, as well as the greatest, was the bonefish. We never have tied into anything with scales to equal the speed and power of a six pound bonefish. And the method of fishing, the stalking required, is unlike anything in angling. We placed the small mouth in first place over the brook trout, our second choice in the fresh water class, because we still think the bronze back is a little more sport on a fly rod than a brook trout.

Westbury Beats San Jose in Polo Test Match, 11-7

Sands Point, N. Y., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—Old Westbury remained undefeated in the test matches for teams entered in the national polo tournament by beating San José of Argentina, 11 to 7, today.

St. Adrian Beats St. Martin, 5 to 3, for C. Y. O. Title

For the second time in three years, St. Adrian's baseball team won the championship of the Catholic Youth Organization league yesterday when it defeated St. Martin's, 5 to 3, at Normal park.

Ray [Lefty] Owens pitched St. Adrian's to victory after a brilliant duel with Al Etges of St. Martin's. Owens yielded six hits and struck out seven, thereby raising his strike-out record for the season to 105, the second largest total in the history of the C. Y. O. league.

Leading the St. Adrian attack were Bruno Jaksy and Miles Rafferty, center fielder and third baseman.

Chet Murphy Beats Bill for Tennis Crown

Chester Murphy, who was beaten by his brother Bill in the semi-finals of the Indiana state tennis tournament recently, obtained revenge yesterday at the Oak Park Tennis club when he turned back Bill, 3-6, 2-6, 7-5, 6-4, 6-3, for the city title.

The all-Murphy singles final followed the brothers' defeat as a team in the doubles, 6-2, 6-2, 6-3. Their conquerors in this event were Russell Ball of El Paso, Tex., and Johnny Shostrom of Chicago.

BROWNS, RED SOX DIVIDE.

St. Louis, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Harland Clift's 24th home run in the first inning, scoring three runs, and a four-run assault on relief pitcher Rube Walberg in the sixth produced all the runs needed by the St. Louis Browns to win the second game of a double-header with the Boston Red Sox today, 8 to 3. The Bostonians won the opener, 2 to 0.

Giants Refuse to Let Go; They Beat Reds, 7-2

New York, Aug. 29.—(AP)—The Giants moved to within two percentage points of the first place Cubs today by putting together a lot of timely hitting and an eight hit pitching effort by Harry Gumbert to defeat the Cincinnati Reds, 7 to 2.

For a few moments, after the Cubs lost their opener to Philadelphia, the Giants were in first place, but when Chicago won the second game the Giants dropped back to second.

A two run rally in the sixth, featured by Ival Goodman's homer and singles by Kiki Cuyler and Lew Riggs, was the only exhibition of Cincinnati power that ruined Gumbert's shutout.

CARDS, BEES SPLIT.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Only one hit separated Ray Harrell, St. Louis Cardinal pitcher, from a no hit, no run game as he turned back the Boston Bees, 3 to 0, in the second game of a double-header that saw the Cards run their losing streak to five by losing the opener, 3 to 2.

Ray Mueller, Boston catcher whose ninth inning single with the bases full won the first game, led off in the sixth inning with a single that prevented Harrell from gaining baseball's hall of fame.

ADVERSE NEWS ACTS AS WEIGHT ON STOCK TRADE

Radio Only Market Leader to Gain.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 29.—[Special.]—Prices of stocks moved lower last week largely as the result of adverse developments both at home and abroad. The selling pressure which has been consistent for the last month increased in the closing days and on Thursday and Friday brought a sharp increase in the volume of trading.

According to the averages, the decline in 50 representative stocks for the six trading days amounted to 5.05 points, the largest for any week since July 28, 1934. Emphasizing the current trend of the market, a tabulation shows that of a total of 1,086 issues changing hands, 10 stocks set new highs and 123, more than double the volume of the preceding week, reached new lows.

U. S. Steel Drops Sharply.

Of the 15 most active issues on the big board only one, Radio, showed a net advance in price—and that amounted to less than a point. United States Steel, the so-called leader of the market, was one of the most vulnerable spots in the list. This premier issue dropped 7½ points on the biggest turnover recorded—138,000 shares.

Market analysts found it comparatively easy to explain the softness of the list and events at both home and abroad were cited as reasons. At the top of the list, of course, was the serious fighting going on between Japan and China and the prediction was made that it will remain the main snag to any forward movement for some time.

Await Fall Trade.

On the domestic front the railroad labor situation knocked down prices for railroad stocks and had an adverse effect on other sections of the list. Railroad freight trafic increased a little, but the gains over the preceding year are now running low and the expenditures of the roads are rising.

Altogether trade news of the week was held to oe less encouraging than usual as industry fails to give any convincing sign that the anticipated autumn recovery would come along on time. Market observers do not think the market has yet begun to worry about another business recession, but it is realized the "recovery" part of the business cycle has been completed.

Finance Plan Doubts Slow U.S. Securities

New York, Aug. 29.—(AP)—While Wall street pondered the latest fiscal developments United States government loans walked the down trail through a week of dragging bond markets.

As the week-end drew near minor rallying tendencies cropped out, and Saturday's short session found federals holding their own or slightly improved. The week began with word from Washington the September federal borrowing would avoid the long term market and provide for about $30,000,0000 in new cash.

The slump in governments continued until Thursday, when most issues suffered fairly sharp setbacks. After the close announcement was made of a slash in the New York Federal Reserve bank's discount rate to 1 per cent from 1½ per cent.

Bonds Steadier Late in Week.

Friday's market showed a steadier treasury list, and on Saturday a few gains were recorded. Turnover during the week in these issues was at an extremely slow pace.

The domestic corporate sector was somewhat affected by the slump in government bonds and developments in the far east. Practically all groups found lower levels during the week. Volume was negligible, as most traders seemed content to stand on the sidelines.

Rail obligations particularly felt the downward pull. A combination of disappointing July earnings and the threat of a strike by the operating unions cast a shadow across the carriers.

Corporate Bonds Easier.

Industrial and utility issues tilted down in sympathy with the general recession. Some interest was occasioned in utility circles by the announcement the American Water Works and Electric company had applied to the Security and Exchanges commission for permission to reorganize its corporate structure under the public utility act.

Foreign dollar loans followed a restricted path for the most part. Despite the widening of the Sino-Japanese conflict Japanese issues managed to score some gains. It was reported in the financial community these issues were receiving government support.

CHICAGO TRADE RISES AS SCHOOL OPENING NEARS

Pre-school buying last week resulted in an upturn in Chicago retail business, the Chicago Association of Commerce reported yesterday. Many wholesalers reported that total sales for August probably will exceed those of any month since the depression.

Employment in the manufacturing field remained at about the same levels as in recent weeks. Late vacation travel on the railroads continues to hold earlier gains over last year.

CORN DECLINES ON OUTLOOK FOR LARGE HARVEST

Imports of Foreign Grain May Cease.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

The prospect for a large corn crop is reflected in the decline in corn prices in the Chicago market in recent weeks. With steady improvement in the outlook for the crop, there has been a steady decline in the price of corn represented by contracts calling for delivery in December.

Corn may now be purchased for delivery next December, after the harvest of the 1937 crop, at about 63 cents a bushel, or nearly 25 cents a bushel less than it brought earlier this year. While the condition of the new crop has gained, the shortage of corn for immediate use has not been relieved. Corn for delivery in September is selling 30 cents a bushel above the December delivery price.

Argentine Corn Being Used.

Argentine corn is still being used by refining plants operating in the center of America's richest corn producing belt. With virtually no American corn to compete with it, the Argentine grain has been shipped more than 6,000 miles and has overcome the additional handicap of 25 cents a bushel duty to influence the market here.

With a big American crop nearing harvest, the flow of foreign grain will be shut off, but until domestic corn is available in quantity the price of grain for immediate delivery is likely to remain high.

Farmers have had little or no corn to sell this summer at the high prices that the grain has commanded. At the same time they have watched the price of their prospective crop shrink.

U. S. Has Plenty of Corn.

Prosperity for the American farmer is assured, however, by the fact that they will have plenty of corn to sell. The farmer is more prosperous in periods of good crops and fair prices than in seasons of poor crops and high prices. Individual farmers who escape the effects of a general crop failure may be accidentally prosperous, but not the farm community as a whole. Dollar corn this summer meant nothing to the farmer who had no corn to market.

The price of wheat remained nearly stationary last week. The stalemate in the export trade was not broken. American grain is not moving out of the country as rapidly as had been expected, but it is believed to be only a matter of time until sales increase sharply.

Week's Range of Prices.

URGES STATES CONTROL PUBLIC OWNED UTILITIES

Public ownership of utilities does not eliminate the need for state public utility commissions, Prof. C. O. Ruggles of the Harvard business school concluded in a study released yesterday on the organization, functions and financing of state utility commissions.

"The public should not imagine that a shift to public ownership and operation will relieve it of the task of working out a satisfactory program of utility regulation," he said. "The vital business problems of utilities are not solved by changing the form of ownership. Any tair test of the merits of either public or private ownership is dependent upon competent continuous regulation."

Prof. Ruggles asserted that adequate accounting departments should be a part of every state commission. There is also a field to be opened up on research on economic and business aspects of the utilities, he said.

Western Poultry Interests Buying Argentine Corn

Los Angeles, Aug. 29.—[Special.]—Pacific coast poultry interests are buying whole shiploads of cheap Argentine corn for their feed supply at River Plata ports, harbor officials here said today. They estimate that some 150,000 tons of Argentine corn will be discharged at the Los Angeles harbor during the five months season now in full swing.

Beatrice Creamery.

Investors' Guide: Please give me information about Beatrice Creamery Stocks.—L. H. B.

Answer: This company is the third largest factor in the dairy industry. It has approximately 2,800 cream buying stations throughout the country, and operates 68 plants for producing butter, ice cream, ice, and buttermilk, gathering and packing eggs, and dressing and packing poultry.

Operations are carried on principally in Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas, Montana, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Colorado, Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and New York. Meadow Gold is a principal trade name.

The present company was formed in 1924 as successor to a business originally established in 1891.

Sales and earnings have recovered considerably in the last few years after dropping off sharply after 1932. Sales amounted to $15,186,000 and net income was $249,000, or 34 cents per common share in the three months ended May 31, 1937, compared with sales of $13,083,000 and net income of $91,000 or a loss of 9 cents per common share after preferred dividend requirements. All departments except the egg division showed increases in unit sales. The record of recent fiscal years ended Feb. 28, compared with the record year of 1930, follows:

1937	$59,667,000	$1,584,000	$2.49
1936	57,117,000	853,000	.41
1935	54,883,000	1,225,000	1.31
1934	44,868,000	494,000	*.66
1930	83,682,000	2,489,000	7.31

*Deficit.

Financial position is good, current assets being $10,046,000 against current liabilities of $1,191,000 on Feb. 28, 1937.

The company replaced its 7 per cent preferred stock with a new 5 per cent preferred issue during 1936, improving the earnings position of the common. Capitalization now consists of 99,095 shares of $5 dividend preferred and 377,955 shares of $25 par common stock. There is no funded debt.

The common stock now is paying regular dividends of 25 cents quarterly. An extra of 50 cents was paid Jan. 2, 1937. Payments amounted to 50 cents each in 1936 and 1935. Dividends were omitted in 1933 and 1934, prior to which $2.50 was paid in 1932 and $4 in each of the preceding three years. Dividends have been paid regularly on the preferred.

The common stock now appears to be medium grade. The preferred deserves a good rating.

N. Y. BANK URGES EFFORT TO BOOST FOREIGN TRADE

The prudent policy for the United States to follow in regard to foreign trade is to proceed gradually and stimulate both import and export business, the Guaranty Trust compar New York, commented yesterday in its monthly survey of business.

Attention has been focused on America's foreign trade policy by the import surpluses in recent months and much disparity of opinion exists among economists as to the significance, the survey pointed out. The United States traditionally has an export surplus.

"The situation need not be regarded as unwholesome as long as our altered international trade relationships do not occasion a sacrifice of export volumes that might react unfavorably on industry and agriculture, throwing American workers out of employment, reducing farm income, and jeopardizing American capital investments," the bank commented.

The bank also pointed to the importance of American foreign trade and that there is still much volume needed to bring trade up to predepression levels.

2 STREAMLINED TRAINS FINISHED FOR S. PACIFIC

Two eight car streamlined trains have just been completed by the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company in its Chicago shops for the Southern Pacific railway, it was announced yesterday. They will be used on a 265 mile nonstop run between Houston and Dallas, Tex. The two trains were moved via the Chicago and Eastern Illinois to St. Louis for delivery to the Southern Pacific.

Each train consists of a baggage car, combination dining-lounge and observation car, and five coaches. Each train consists of two car articulated units which may be cut in or out as needed. The cars are built of high tensile steel and aluminum.

Streamlined steam locomotives being built in the Southern Pacific shops will haul the trains.

TWA to Start New York Air Service Via Ft. Wayne

"Whole Life" Policies.

The most common insurance policy calls for payment of a specified sum to the beneficiary at the time of death without limitation as to the length of time the policy has been in force, provided all premiums are paid. Such policies are called "whole life" policies.

"Whole life" policies are either "ordinary life" or "limited payment" life. The holder of an ordinary life policy pays premiums as long as he lives. The holder of a limited payment policy pays premiums only for a specified period of years after which the policy remains in force without additional payments.

The question naturally arises whether it is most beneficial to take ordinary life or limited life insurance. Since ordinary life is cheaper, some prefer this type because more insurance can be obtained at a particular time for a given sum. Others prefer not to have to make payments late in life when earning power may be impaired. Accordingly, the decision as to the kind of policy is one which only the individual can make.

Warns Public Against British Loan Concerns

New York, Aug. 29.—(AP)—A warning to the American investing public to beware of "attractive" offers from foreign money lenders was issued today by State Attorney General John J. Bennett Jr., following an investigation of two British banking firms advertising long term, low interest loans in American newspapers.

Already American investors have been fleeced of many thousands of dollars, said Assistant Attorney General A. V. McCall, who conducted the investigation of the United Kingdom Mercantile and Finance Corporation, Limited, and Heilbut-Symons and company, both of London.

The investigation began on Aug. 13 when Justice Charles Poletti signed an order staying New York representatives of the British concerns from disposing of any assets pending the announcement of the attorney general's findings.

Hundreds of Prospects.

McCall's report to Attorney General Bennett declares that since the news of the investigation was published his office has received hundreds of communications from prospective investors in points as widely separated as Florida and California.

According to the report, it was the practice of the firms to advertise loans for 60 years, at 4½ per cent interest, in the "business opportunities" columns of American newspapers.

The "pay-off," said McCall, was in the form of an advance fee paid by the applicant before the loan was consummated. No evidence that any loan was ever consummated came to the attention of the investigators.

Many Loans Sought.

"The investigation so far indicates that even the Bank of England would be unable to provide the requested loans made by citizens of the United States," the report said, "if it is reasonable to assume that similar large sums have been requested by business men in all the other nations of the world where these corporations are apparently active."

Asserting that "the British empire takes no steps to protect, not only its own citizens, but other nationals, from frauds originating in England in the promotion and sale of fictitious and fraudulent securities," McCall said the most effective protection for the American investor was widespread publicity.

U. S. Cites Chicago Candy Firm on Lottery Charge

Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—(AP)—The federal trade commission announced today it has issued a complaint charging the Cherry Specialty company, 4722 Augusta boulevard, Chicago, with "selling to dealers assortments of candy so packed as to involve the use of a lottery scheme" when resold.

STEEL OUTPUT RISES AS PLANTS IN EAST RESUME

Place National Rate at 83 Per Cent.

Resumption of operations at two steel plants in the Pittsburgh district last week resulted in a rise of 2 points in the national steel ingot production rate to 83 per cent of theoretical capacity, the magazine Steel reported yesterday.

The rate at Pittsburgh advanced 3.9 points to 83.4 per cent, Detroit operations increased 5 points to 100 per cent, and Wheeling rose 0.3 point to 89.5 per cent of capacity. The New England rate declined 15 points to 60 per cent. Other points were unchanged, with Chicago operations at 86.5 per cent, eastern Pennsylvania, 65; Youngstown, 73; Buffalo, 86; Birmingham, 96; Cincinnati, 93; St. Louis, 84, and Cleveland, 79.5 per cent.

Expect Larger Orders.

Steel buying continued in small volume last week, new bookings in most cases being well below shipments, Steel said, but signs of improvement were noted in a number of products. These gains were largely due to early commitments by automobile manufacturers for bars, sheets, and strip.

Agricultural implement manufacturers continued to make the heaviest demands for steel in several years, taking steady shipments of bars and other products, the trade journal reported.

Ore Cargo Sets Record.

For the third time this season the record for a single cargo of iron ore from Lake Superior was broken last week, the new record being 15,529 tons, which is 119 tons above the preceding high.

The scrap market was quiet during the week, with most prices nominal on steelmaking grades. Steel's scrap composite price was unchanged at $20.50 a ton.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Wheat Deal Nets Profit.

Aug. 29, 1937.

THAT little game of trying to out guess the weather, the bugs, and the minds of men who buy and sell futures contracts in wheat has come to an end for men at the Tribune farms. The farms' wheat futures deal has been closed at a profit and now the men say they can go back to farming again.

One day last week the farms' broker on the Chicago Board of Trade caught the price right and covered on the contract. He has sent to the farms a check for $537.17, which included the $500 fund put up with the broker to cover margins when the price of September wheat went up, and a profit of $37.17 left after deducting $2.50 brokerage fees and 33 cents tax.

Short $191.25 at One Time.

On June 21 the farms sold a contract on the futures market, agreeing to deliver 1,000 bushels of No. 2 hard winter wheat at $1.08¾ a bushel in September. Soon after the contract was sold the price of September wheat began to climb until at one time the farms' margin fund was short $191.25 when wheat went up to $1.27⅞ a bushel. Then it started downward. Last Monday the farms' broker bought 1,000 bushels of wheat at $1.04¾ a bushel, or 4 cents a bushel less than the contract price, making a gross profit for the farms of $40 on the 1,000 bushels.

Since then the price has been going up and down. Friday the closing price was $1.06¾ a bushel. Yesterday the market closed at $1.04¼ a bushel.

Buying 1,000 bushels of wheat was necessary because black stem rust hit the farms' wheat crop, cutting the prospective yield of approximately 2,000 bushels to a little more than 300 bushels of marketable wheat. The net profit of $37.17 will be used in helping to offset losses from the black stem rust.

Beans Interest Farmers.

Farmers who have visited the Wheaton test grounds lately have been interested in the two field varieties of soy beans—Kingwa and a special strain of Manchu—now growing in the plots. The Manchu beans, grown for the bean rather than for hay, still are green but apparently will have time to mature before frost. Measurements taken Friday show that the plants on low, rich ground average about 42 inches in height. A good crop of pods, fairly well filled with beans, already is developing on the vines and new pods are showing up daily.

The Kingwas, which will be cut and cured for hay, now average approximately 40 inches in height. Most of the plants are in bloom and pods are just beginning to form. The plants have a heavy foliage that has not shown any sign of turning yellow. The crop is expected to have plenty of time to mature before frost.

Both varieties made a good showing at the farm last year, despite the dry weather. This year they have been grown under more favorable conditions and are likely to make even a better showing than they did in the first test.
